Cominform Accuses Him of "Reign of Terror" in Yugoslavia.

By The Associated Press

The kremlin-bossed Cominform took another crack today at Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, accusing him of conducting a "reign of terror"

The Communists in adjoining Italy, in the wake of the attempted assassination of Palmiro Togliatti, the leading Italian Communist, temporarily paralyzed the country with a general strike Riots resulted in at least six deaths The Communists were challenging the very life of the government of Alcide De Gasperi, who defeated them at the polls in April But the government declared a back to work movement was beginning

The Russians rejected U S. British and French demands that the Berlin blockade be lifted immediately This was expected The western powers might carry the issue to the United Nations but a Soviet veto could stop action there The Russian newspaper in Berlin said "obviously the time has come to regulate the problem of air corridors through which the U S and Britain are feeding their German charges"

Greek Communists again pleaded for an end to the civil war now that a third part of their forces are "threatened with defeat in the Grammos mountains. The Greeks rejected the demand

Ten-Year Illness Takes U. S. Leader Of World War 1

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 15—General John J "Blackjack" Pershing who led American troops to victory in World War I, died at 2.50 a. m today at the age of 87

Announcement of the general's death was made by President Truman through White House aides after he had learned of it upon his return from the Democratic national convention at Philadelphia.

The aged former chief of staff had been ill since February, 1938, when he was stricken at Tucson, Ariz., by a form of rheumatism which affected his heart muscles. He came close to dying at that time but rallied with a display of fighting spirit which amazed his physicians.

Since then, he had lived at Walter Reed hospital here, in recent years staying in a wing built especially for him

Death was caused by a blood clot which reached his lung

Maj Gen George Beach—the hospital commandant, who met Mr Truman at the train on his arrival from Philadelphia — reported that the underlying cause was "arteriosclerosis" and "auricular fibrillation"

At Pershing's bedside were his son, Warren his sister, Miss May Pershing, and his longtime physician Maj Gen Shelley Marietta

The American flag was dropped to half-staff throughout the capital as a grateful nation prepared to accord highest honors to one of its greatest military heroes.

Burial in Arlington

In response to Pershing's longtime wish, he will be buried Monday in Arlington national military cemetery where lie so many of his comrades-in-arms

But before the body is borne across the Potomac to the rolling Arlington hills, it will be taken to the Capitol to lie in state on a catafalque originally built for the funerals of George Washington.

The catafalque was to have been the last resting place of the father of his country, but actually Washington's body was never moved from Mt. Vernon, in view of the terms of his will

Pershing's body will lie in state in the Capitol rotunda on Sunday and on Monday morning until 12 noon EST The public will be permitted to pass the bier from 2 p m. until 8 p m. Sunday and from 8 a m. until noon Monday

At that hour a formal procession will escort the body through the capital to the Arlington amphitheatre—resting place of the unknown soldier There services will be held at 2 p m.

As General of the Armies, Pershing was the nation's highest-ranking military man. Only one other American, George Washington, has held that title. Several other military leaders of the Civil War and World War II have held the title of General of the Army

All during the second World war, Pershing received a full report twice a month from General George C Marshall, his aide of 1917 Pershing had warned that the United States might become embroiled in a second European war as early as April 1937.

After this country went to war with Germany and Japan in 1941, the general, old and feeble, followed day-to-day developments closely from his hospital room, paying particular attention to "my boys" — who included, besides Marshall, Generals Dwight D Eisenhower and George S. Patton Jr

Commissioned at 26

Born Sept. 13 1860 Pershing graduated from West Point when he was 26 He became a second lieutenant in the Sixth U S Cavalry in July of that year

His appointment as general of the armies was confirmed by the senate 23 years later Between those two dates, Pershing served in such military engagements as the Apache campaign in New Mexico and Arizona in 1886 the Sioux campaign four years later the Spanish American war of 1898 and the Filipino insurrection in 1913

WANT SPECIAL HOSPITAL VOTE

Recommendation Is Made at Civic Planning Commission Meeting.

A special election for the purpose of presenting a bond issue for the new hospital facilities to Marion county voters was recommended to the county commissioners last night by the Marion Civic Planning association

The recommendation, agreed upon unanimously at a full membership meeting of the association held at Hotel Harding, suggested Aug 31 as the election date

The general meeting was called following a special meeting of the association's board of directors Tuesday at which time the directors considered a course of action to recommend to the association as to whether the bond issue should be submitted at a special election or held for the general election in November

The county commissioners were to move today to clear up certain state and federal requirements necessary to be met before they can act to call for a special election

County Prosecutor James E Reed was to be given authority to seek state tax department approval of the bond issue being offered to the voters in special election and also obtain conditional approval of the procedure from federal authorities.

Both requirements must be met in compliance with provisions of the special statute covering local bond issues involving federal aid, the prosecutor said.

Federal OK Certain

Approval of the federal government has been assured orally by Dr A J Borosky, chief of the office of hospital facilities which is charged with the duty of allocating federal hospital funds in Ohio

Dr Borosky, here yesterday to confer with local authorities indicated to Mayor Harry L. Dowler that conditional federal approval would be certified to Marion county by letter at once

He informed Mayor Dowler that the hospital facilities office was interested in early action in Marion by virtue of the fact that nearly one-third of the total federal funds allocated for hospital facilities in Ohio this year are being held from disposition pending action here.

If the federal grant in aid is not to be claimed here the hospital facilities office will certify the funds to other cities seeking federal aid for construction of hospital facilities, he said.

The recommendation for a special election was moved by J B. Bray and seconded by Mrs Walter Hann. following open discussion on the manner in which the proposition should be given to the voters.

U.S. STEEL TO SET PAY SCALE MEETING

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH, July 15—The steel industry's "third round" of post-war wage increases was expected to be set today by U.S. Steel Corp and the CIO United Steelworkers.

Reports that U.S Steel, bellwether of the industry and the union are near agreement were strengthened by announcement that the union's international executive board meets this afternoon with the U.S Steel negotiating committee The union's 171-man wage-policy committee will meet tomorrow

The meetings follow the usual pattern in contract announcements. The amount of the increase will range between 12½ and 16-cents an hour, according to industry observers.

Negotiations between U.S Steel and the union have been in progress for some time. Talks were started after wage increases were announced in other industries despite steel industry's attempt to beat inflation by cutting prices and holding wages at the 1947 level.

The anti-inflationary price cutting experiment failed, however, when wage and price increases swept over the automotive, electrical, rubber, glass and coal industries.

PARTY REBELS CALL MEETING IN BIRMINGHAM

Southerners Will Put Up Own Candidate and Draft Own Platform.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, July 15—Some but not all of the rebel southern Democrats slapped down at their national party's convention packed off for Birmingham today—there to name a state's rights candidate for president and write a states' rights platform.

This history seemed to be flashing back 80 years to another bitter party split over the race issue a split that put Abraham Lincoln into the White House as the nation's first Republican president

But in a pre-dawn challenge to his Dixie and GOP foes alike President Truman raised the civil rights issue high into the pre-election campaign.

The Chief Executive climaxed his acceptance of the presidential nomination with a call for congress to reassemble 11 days hence —to act among other things, on his and Republican calls for greater civil rights for Negroes and other minority groups.

Mr Truman has asked for federal anti-lynch, anti-poll tax, anti-Jim Crow and anti-job discrimination laws

It was the Democratic convention's action in writing those specific proposals into the party's 1948 platform that brought the call for Saturday's rebel conference in Birmingham

Gov Fielding Wright of Mississippi formally announced the convention call for the Alabama city.

Delegates Walk Out

His action came swiftly after the full Mississippi delegation and half of Alabama's 26 delegates strode out of the steaming convention hall last night to protest a double defeat over the platform

First the convention turned down by a 925 to 309 vote, Dixie's own states' rights plank which would have pledged the party to leave the problem of civil rights to each state

Then by a 651½ to 582½ vote, the delegates wrote their complete endorsement of Mr Truman's own program into the platform that had been the subject of a week-long fight.

The deep south and Texas got very few votes from beyond their borders

It was after the southerners lost their fight to insert a separate states' rights declaration that former Rep Andrew Biemiller of Wisconsin proposed the two additional paragraphs singling out Mr Truman's specific anti-discrimination program.

Calls It "Funeral"

During the debate in the hot, muggy hall, Robert Figg of South Carolina shouted to his fellow delegates that they were officiating at "the funeral of the Democratic party"

But the south was hopelessly out-voted

The walkout didn't come at once however

Chairman Sam Rayburn gaveled

BRAND CONGRESS CALL AS "POLITICS"

By The Associated Press

President Truman's call for a special session of congress July 26 promptly drew cries of "cheap politics" today from many Republicans of the GOP-controlled house and senate.

The split in Democratic ranks shown at the party's national convention in Philadelphia also was reflected in reaction of the minority's congress members to their chief's back-to-work proposal. They differed as to whether it was a wise or unwise political move and as to whether dodd would come of it or not.

Mr Truman announced the plan for the special session—the 30th in the history of congress —as he accepted his party's presidential nomination at Philadelphia last night. Housing and anti-inflation were placed at the top of issues to be considered with civil rights and other recommendations also to come up for consideration.

Almost without exception Republican congress members st-

Ohioans Back Truman, Prepare for Fall Race

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, July 15—A band of Ohioans, weary, sleepy and uncomfortably damp with perspiration, delivered their 50 votes to Harry S Truman and Alben W. Barkley early today

Then, concluding their three-day job at the Democratic national convention, they went home to undertake a more difficult assignment

Carrying Ohio for President Truman and vice presidential nominee Barkley in the Nov 2 election

Some of the Ohio delegates are optimistic some pessimistic, but most of them are just plain hopeful All agree that it will be no easy chore to beat the Republican national ticket of Dewey and Warren

They feel better, however, when they think of their state ticket, because Frank J Lausche, Democratic nominee for governor is considered a good vote getter

Lausche, if he got through the crowd of thousands who could not find seats in the huge convention hall, was watching from the rear balcony—the bleachers, he called it—about 2 a m when the delegates cast their votes for President Truman on the first ballot and then helped nominate Barkley by acclamation.

But first they paid a compliment to W A Julian, the U.S. treasurer by offering the Cincinnatian's name for the presidential nomination

Former U.S Senator Robert J Bulkley went to the rostrum and made a speech to nominate the 23-year-old Julian. There was scattered applause throughout the hall.

But Julian was a presidential candidate for hardly a minute As quickly as he could be stopped to the microphone, withdrew his candidacy and urged the Ohioans to support President Truman.

Later, when the President appeared before the delegates to deliver his acceptance speech former Gov George White helped escort him to the rostrum

ERIE SHOP ADDITION WORK PROGRESSING

A $100,000 addition is being built to the Erie railroad diesel shops in the Marion yards on Kenton avenue It will extend along the south side of the present shop.

Ironwork for the new structure is half completed The addition will be 40 feet wide, 200 feet long and 1½ stories high. In appearance it will be similar to the original diesel shops, being of the same brick, glass block and steel construction

The building is scheduled for completion about Sept 1

The addition will be used for the overhaul of locomotive trucks and electrical equipment. Main purpose is more work space, an Erie spokesman said today He said no additional personnel will be employed at present for the new addition has as one of its main objectives the streamlining of working space so repair crews may return locomotives to service quicker

Shops have now service a diesel fleet of nine heavy road freight engines, seven road passenger engines and 10 switchers. This fleet has grown from an original fleet of diesels here which numbered only six road freight locomotives

New passenger and freight cars are being added to the growing fleet of Erie passenger and freight trains operating out of the Erie yards and terminal here as rapidly as production facilities permit, the company reports.

President Issues Call for Special Congress Session

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, July 15—President Truman countered a Democratic civil rights split today with a dramatic call for a July 26 special session of congress and a smashing attack on what he termed the "poppycock" of Republican promises.

Mr. Truman asked for action within 15 days after the lawmakers meet, on anti-inflation and housing legislation.

An hour before he took the stage of Philadelphia's convention hall early this morning to fling a challenge at the Republicans to make good on their Dewey-Warren platform pledges, Mr Truman had been nominated by his party on the first ballot. Nominated by acclamation for vice president was Senator Barkley of Kentucky.

The vote, indicating the wide breach opened in party ranks by the bitter, last-ditch fight over civil rights was:

President Truman, 947½.

Senator Richard Russell of Georgia, 263.

Paul V. McNutt, ½ vote.

Not voting, 23.

30-Minute Ovation

The convention, after a 30-minute ovation for the President, gave Alben W Barkley of Kentucky, 70-year-old minority leader of the senate, a unanimous vote for vice president.

Unanimous, that is, except for a group of Mississippi and Alabama delegates. They had walked out earlier over the racial issue—turning their steps to Birmingham, Ala., and a Saturday call for a state's rights convention of their own.

But Mr Truman took the bit in his teeth in a fighting acceptance speech.

He said he will recommend that the GOP-controlled special session, among other things, act on civil rights legislation.

While embattled southern delegations sat silent, the iron-willed chief executive told the delegates:

"Everybody knows that I recommended to the congress a civil rights program. I did so because I believe it to be my duty under the Constitution.

"Some of the members of my own party disagree violently on this matter but they stand up and do it openly. People can tell where we stand. The Republicans all profess to be for these matters, but the 80th congress failed to act.

"They had enough men and they had cloture (a rule under which senate debate can be gagged to shut off a filibuster). There were enough people that would vote for cloture"

Some southern Democrats, angry over the convention's adoption of a stiffer civil rights plank than its own platform committee had urged, said they believe the Republicans will lose no time in putting a civil rights bill before the senate at the special session.

Promise Long Debate

These same Dixie law makers promised the same long-winded debate that has bottled up such moves in the past.

Republicans regarded the prospect of a Democratic filibuster with more glee than they seemed likely to register over Mr. Truman's demand that they solve the housing and inflation problems—and pronto.

Declaring at the start that "Senator Barkley and I will win this election and make those Republicans like it," Mr Truman said the special session will show whether the Republicans "can fool the people with such poppycock" as he said was in their platform.

As his party members thundered their approval, the President told the delegates:

"Now, what that worst 80th congress does in this special session will be the test. The American people will not decide by listening to mere words or by reading a mere platform.

"They will decide on the record, the record as it has been written, and in the record is the stark truth that the battle lines of 1946 are the same as they were back in 1932 when the nation lay helpless and prostrate as a result of the Republican inaction."

This removed the last doubt that the President intends to make the record of congress the full keynote of his campaign against Gov Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

In his talk to the delegates today, Mr Truman said a great many of the things that have been done in the international field had been accomplished "in a cooperative bi-partisan manner."

"As I have said time and time again," he declared, "foreign policy should be the policy of the whole nation and not a policy of one party or the other. Partisanship should stop at the water's edge and I shall continue to preach that through this whole campaign"

By his call for the special session, the President moved the opening scene of the campaign

Truman Issues Congress Call For July 26

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 15 — President Truman today formally called the Republican controlled congress into special session at noon on Monday, July 26.

His proclamation calling the legislators back to Washington came only about 12 hours after he had announced he would do so at the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia.

Following up his decision, announced as he received the Democratic presidential nomination, Mr. Truman's call said "an extraordinary occasion" requires reconvening of the 80th congress.

The brief proclamation did not formally outline reasons for the call. The President merely directed the members to assemble "to receive such communication as may be made by the Executive."

Mr. Truman had directed his staff at a 8 a. m. conference to proceed with taking steps immediately to call congress into session. Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said the President had only a brief three-hour nap before meeting his aides, since he did not return to Washington from Philadelphia until early today.

The President will deliver at least one, and perhaps additional special messages to the lawmakers.

Presumably, there will deal with price controls, housing, federal aid to education, broadened social security and other issues which he told the convention the "eightieth, worst congress" neglected in its regular session.

First Since Before the Civil War

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 15 — President Truman's call for a special session of congress starting July 26 is the first issued in a presidential election year since before the Civil war

In 1856, Democrat Franklin Pierce called a special meeting of congress to pass an Army appropriation bill. He was not a candidate for a second term.

to familiar grounds in Washington where he speaks not only as a candidate but as President.

He called back into action a congress that has many diverse Republican elements at a time when there is little question that Dewey and Gov Earl Warren of California, his GOP running mate, would like to be the sole mouthpieces of the Republican party

At the same time, however, Mr. Truman laid himself and his administration open to daily onslaughts from Republican lawmakers who individually could command little public attention for their views but collectively could make a headline showing about as big as his own.

Whatever the outcome, Mr. Truman was credited by many of his admirers with having dealt a strong and double-barrel political stroke. His apparent aim: to blot out the sound of the last-ditch Dixie fight against his nomination and to put the Republicans on the defensive.

Mr. Truman had been making general hints in a campaign speech and remarks for the convention to complete its business.

There he heard his partisans cut loose with a well-applauded literally threshing about the

Hearings Scheduled For NYC Train Conflict

Hearings [illegible] of the New York Central Railroad [illegible] operating [illegible] Ohio [illegible] were scheduled yesterday by the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

The commission announced it would call a hearing in the railroad's petition for abandonment of two Columbus-Toledo trains July 22 and at that time continue the hearing to Oct. 5.

A second petition asking permission to discontinue two passenger trains between Cincinnati and Parkersburg, W. Va., will be considered Sept. 21 at a hearing set for July 20, the commission said.

General Takes Command Of Army Engineer Post

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 15 — Maj. Gen. Joseph Lewis Mehaffey was scheduled to arrive here today to assume his new post as Ohio River area engineer.

Gen. Mehaffey, who has been on Okinawa since serving as governor of the Panama Canal Zone, succeeds Maj. Gen. Douglas L. Weart, also became commanding general of the Army's engineer center at Fort Belvoir, Va., two months ago.

A veteran of 34 years in army service, Gen. Mehaffey is returning to his native state for he was born in Lima, O., Nov. 20, 1889.

The new division engineer, one of the tallest men in the army — he stands six feet five inches — was graduated at West Point in 19[illegible].

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweigh, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that S.S.S. Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the S.S.S. Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, S.S.S. Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on S.S.S. Tonic now. An vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. S.S.S. Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Speech Correction Center Progressing

By The United Press

WICHITA, Kan.—A large group of the country's handicapped, the speech defectives, now numbering approximately 4,000,000, can look toward the plains of Kansas with hope.

Work started late in June is progressing rapidly on a model speech correction center here with 41 buildings covering 60 acres. The plant is the new home of the Institute of Logopedics, which was founded by Dr Martin F Palmer 14 years ago at the University of Wichita. The model center, to cost $1,337,353, is being financed by gifts to the institute, a non-profit organization, and a loan from the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, the loan being guaranteed under title 600 of the FHA.

The center is so planned that it can provide full correction facilities for every type of speech defect, including cerebral palsy, aphasia, which is another type of brain injury, stuttering, cleft palate and articulations, according to Dr Palmer, who is president of the American Speech and Hearing association.

The population of Texas increased 207 per cent between 1890 and 1940.

Twice a Centennial, Plus Half, Gets Name

By The United Press

CAHOKIA, Ill.—They had to coin a new word to do it, but the group planning the 250th anniversary observance of the founding of Cahokia finally settled on "duosesquicentennial."

The word doesn't appear in Webster's dictionary and the Latin phrase for 250th is duosesquicentennium.

Father Joseph P. Donnelley, S.J., historian at St. Louis university, said it all depends on the hyphen.

"If you use the hyphen after 'duo,' it means 250 years. But if you leave it out, there's no such word. And we've got the right to invent a new word. That's why the English language is alive."

They Dealt With the Inevitable

THE DEMOCRATS have put the best face they can on the political circumstances that are expected to defeat them in November.

In their convention they tried to conceal the scars left by the anti-Truman sentiment which embittered them.

They pacified to the best of their ability the dissident blocs which have been growing more irreconcilable since 1940.

They struggled manfully with the overwhelming handicap of their forthcoming situation at the polls—that four successive terms for Franklin D Roosevelt blanked out all potential successors and left them with a candidate who cannot lead them to victory.

They compromised the split within the party by nominating Senator Barkley of Kentucky for vice president because he is known to be faithful to the party, though lacking in qualifications of leadership. Mr. Truman at 64 and Senator Barkley at 70 are a tacit confession that Democrats do not expect to win the election.

They appealed to organized labor with an absurd pledge to repeal the Taft-Hartley act, failing to acknowledge that this also would repeal the guarantees of the Wagner act and leave organized labor high and dry, with no federal recognition of the right to bargain collectively.

They tried to make it appear that high prices are the sole responsibility of the Republican party, disregarding the fact that high prices make high wages and high income for farmers, for which the Democrats claim all the credit.

They made the welkin ring with recitals of everything good that happened while they were in power, omitting everything bad.

They did everything they could to divert attention from their inability to function as an awkward coalition of northern urban political machines, southern reactionaries and middle-of-the-road Democrats who have lost their sense of political direction.

These things all are permissible. They are expected. The Democrats can't be blamed for dealing with the inevitable in the classical manner.

It now becomes their task and patriotic duty to reorganize as a loyal opposition and to perform that function against the time when circumstances may bring them to power again. The Republicans faced the same task in 1932, when their defeat was certain. Events have moved on, as they always do and now it is the Democrats' turn to retire to the sidelines.

For the next six months Mr Truman will be a lame duck President. Fortunately, there are no real differences between the parties on the basic issues of foreign policy, the only field in which Mr Truman will be obliged to make executive decisions. As far as domestic policy is concerned, the patterns now existing will continue.

When political tempers have cooled and the realities have been separated from the fictions, Democrats will see what Mr. Truman saw before the Philadelphia convention met—that his renomination was inevitable because no one else would do what had to be done.

He must make a campaign against hopelessly long odds. He must try to patch up the differences among its quarreling factions. He must preside over the death of the party that was in power for 16 years and begin its rehabilitation for the responsibilities of the future.

The $2,140 Suggestion

IN WASHINGTON'S pentagon building the colonels and the brigadier generals sometimes can't see the forest for the trees.

An Army engineer corps civilian employe has offered a suggestion so revolutionary that the Army awarded him $2,140.

He pointed out that the Army has millions of feet of lumber each year when it thins out its acres of timber on its reservations. Why couldn't the man responsible for buying lumber get together with the man in charge of the forest preserves with a view to using Army timber? The engineer corps head men made some slide rule calculations and decided the Army could save $3,500,000 a year doing just that.

Moral: Never get so deep in a rut that you can't see a fresh point of view.

Eton Doffs Its Hat

THE CHANGES taking place in England are cutting deeper than we think. Now it is announced that after Sept. 1 Eton boys won't wear the top hats they've worn for the last 128 years in mourning for George III. The old ones are worn out and lend-lease top hats wouldn't be any good; they have to be a special kind made in the style of 1820.

The Eton headmaster says the hats may be worn again some day, but the odds are against it. The whole face of England is changing. Class distinctions are vanishing. Stately homes are becoming state homes. Because of the shortage of shakos and fancy uniform the royal court rarely appears in full panoply. British reverence for tradition is undergoing a shock treatment from which it may never recover.

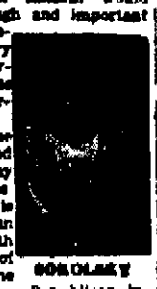
Wheat is grown in all 48 American states. Wheat covers more of the world's farm lands than any other crop.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Campaign Issues Out of The Past

FOR much of its history the Republican party waved the "bloody shirt," as it was called. The Civil war was a campaign issue even as late as William McKinley and the ghost of Abraham Lincoln rode the hustings even more recently. Petty men were nominated for high office on the assumption that Lincoln would see them through and important issues were debased by oratory unrelated to anything that was of recent occurrence.



SOKOLSKY

The harm done to the United States is today fully calculable for history is often slow in catching up with the stupidities of politicians. The Solid South is a Republican invention, for had that party not used the "bloody shirt" device to keep itself in power, the south would not have been forced to meet that challenge by reducing itself to a one party area. The intensification of racialism in both South and North and its application not only to Negroes but to aliens of various types, even to the third and fourth generation is a direct result of the desire and need for political expression of a people, who, having been defeated in war, found themselves powerless for half a century. The South came into its own only with Woodrow Wilson.

Depending on the Past

Now the Democrats are repeating this performance. They are raising the ghost of Franklin D Roosevelt to run against Tom Dewey. They hope to bury Harry Truman in Rooseveltian ectoplasm, so that the voter will not know the present but believe in the past. In China, I witnessed a similar spectacle after Sun Yat-Sen died. Living, he was forced to take refuge in a foreign concession, he was ridiculed and abused and his small following was without position. But after his death, he was elevated to the position of a god. A huge tomb was erected in his honor, before which men and women genuflected and in every room of every school and office and many homes, a portrait of Sun was hung as though it were an Ikon. The Russian did the same symbolic job on the dead Lenin.

Maybe it is good politics, but it is bad patriotism. Roosevelt remains a controversial personality, deeply adored by many, equally hated by others. His close colleagues, Harry Hopkins, Henry Morgenthau Jr., Cordell Hull, Henry Stimson, Jim Farley have described him in their memoirs as a man capable of great untruths, of petty lying and joyful trickery. Some of his friends, who so describe him, do it with admiration, setting themselves up as protagonists of the lie as a weapon of party politics.

Would Lift the Bars

At any rate, if the ghost of Roosevelt is to be the candidate, we shall have to discuss closed issues with all the hatred they invoked at the time that they were living causes. We should have to discuss for instance, in detail Teheran and Yalta although something could be done about them as long they were subjects for others than the historian and the moralist who are shocked by the deceptions of our President.

But what we need to do in this campaign is to go forward from where we are. The principal problem facing the American people is the conduct of our foreign policy which places upon the American taxpayer an unbearable burden which is altering the character of our economy, keeping the government in the production and distribution of goods and placing undue limitations upon private enterprise which forces up to maintain in peacetime our armed forces on a rising war-time basis, which places impediments in the path of American consumption of American products while goods are more plentifully produced than ever.

A Matter of Fact

Senator McGrath in a radio interview attributed the current housing shortage to the 80th congress. That was an intellectually dishonest statement of which the senator should be ashamed, it is not a matter of opinion but of fact. The housing, as the automobile, the refrigerator and other shortages are due to the excessive export of essential commodities during and since the war resulting in an out-of-price range and lacks in this country. That needs to be discussed, too. And we shall have such a debate if the ghosts of Lincoln and Roosevelt are permitted to remain quiescent.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, July 15, 1938.

WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins was optimistic over the employment outlook, despite a year's peak of 2,853,354 persons on the relief rolls.

Miss Blanche Pauline Thomas, 19, died of heart trouble at her home on North Main street.

Four surviving members of a family of 22 children were enjoying a family reunion for the first time in 40 years, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thieken of Lee street. They were Mrs. Thieken and her three brothers: C. W. Perry of Sunny Dale, Calif., W. A. Perry of Longmont, Calif. and M. B. Perry of Haddam, Kas.

Fred White was installed as chancellor commander of Marion Lodge No. 402, Knights of Pythias.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Frost of Chestnut street.

The arvanced voice pupils of Mrs. B. L. Wallace were presented in a recital at her home on Homer street. More than 40 relatives and friends of the pupils and teachers attended.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, July 13, 1928.

Forcing open a skylight, burglars entered the Kennedy pharmacy at 122 West Center street and made their escape with $555 in cash.

Marion Eagles baseball team won an easy 7-2 victory over the highly-touted Bason team of Barberton at Lincoln park. Fisher and Steinbeck were the battery for Marion.

Orrin R. Peters, 37, of Summit street, salesman for the Schaffner furniture store, died at his home after an illness of several weeks.

Rev. J. B. Swain of Kirkpatrick was elected president of Christian churches of Marion, Kirkpatrick, Caledonia, Bucyrus, Galion, Richwood and Pleasant Grove at a meeting at the latter church near Mt. Gilead.

Mrs. Marie Hannah Bosh of 253 South State street was a guest of honor at a dinner celebrating her birthday anniversary. Mrs. Elizabeth Pangborn of Nunin court celebrated her seventy-sixth birthday anniversary at an all-day family party at her home.

Hard To Stop

By The Associated Press

BUTTE, Mont.—A super-eager beaver was balked in an effort to build himself a dam in suburban Meaderville but won his fight to remain free. The animal's engineering work on Silver Bow creek didn't fit in at all with city planning so Jack Ritter and Louis Bugni hauled the beaver off the job with a garden rake and dumped him in a sack. For a time they entertained ideas of making him a pet but he fought that idea, tooth and claw, so they freed him in nearby hills.

Accordion Imitates

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW—Trud reports that an experimental workshop of the Soviet arts committee has produced a new type of accordion which will reproduce the sound of many musical instruments. Called the 'timbre accordion' a recent demonstration showed the instrument reproducing the music of the french horn, the clarinet and the bassoon. The accordion is one of the most popular instruments in Russia.

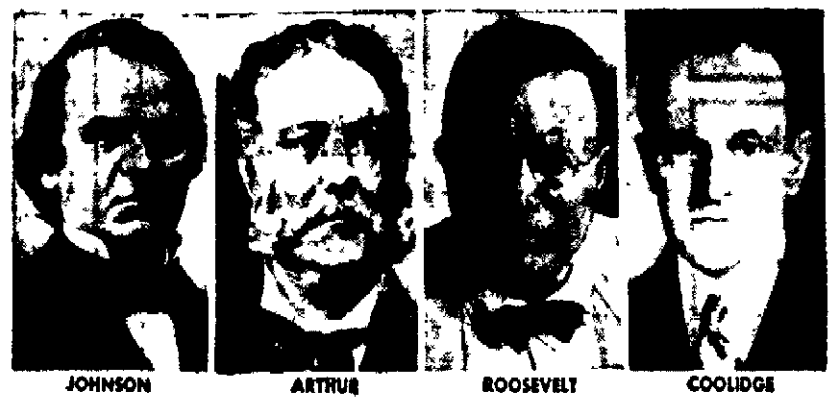
Seven Have Inherited White House Job



JOHNSON ARTHUR ROOSEVELT COOLIDGE

By The Associated Press

HARRY S TRUMAN is one of seven vice presidents who stepped into the White House on a president's death. Of the six others, four merely filled out their part terms in office. The two who went on to serve an additional term on their own were the most recent in history.

The six were John Tyler, Millard Fillmore, Andrew Johnson, Chester A. Arthur, Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge.

Tyler became president in 1841, when William Henry Harrison died after having been president only a month. Tyler's tenure was marked by constant bickering with congress and while he was renominated by an irregular Democratic convention in May 1844 he withdrew from the race the following August.

Fillmore who went into the White House in 1850 when Zachary Taylor died was turned down for the nomination by the Whigs in 1852. Four years later the "know-nothing" party named him and the Whig party endorsed him. He carried only a state, Maryland.

Andrew Johnson was perhaps least fortunate of all. He became chief executive when Lincoln was assassinated in 1865, and resulting feuds with congress led to house impeachment proceedings against him. He was acquitted, but in 1868 his party denied him renomination.

Arthur succeeded the assassinated James A. Garfield in 1881 and historians now credit him with having done an able job. But when he tried for the Republican nomination in 1884 he was passed over for James G. Blaine.

Theodore Roosevelt did better. He served three and a half years after President McKinley was shot in 1901 and then was renominated and reelected for four years on his own in 1908. In 1912, he tried for the Republican nomination and when he failed he started his own Bull Moose party and ran for the office. He was unsuccessful, however.

Coolidge served out Warren G. Harding's term when the latter died in 1923, was renominated and reelected in 1924 and was considered a possibility for nomination again in 1928 when he issued his "I do not choose to run" statement.

Truman served as vice president less than three months when Franklin D. Roosevelt died in his fourth presidential term in April, 1945.

New Democratic Generation

By Walter Lippmann

ALTHOUGH this article must be written and out of my hands before the nominations are made in Philadelphia, I am assuming that the predictions are correct and that the ticket will be Truman and Barkley. If that is it, the convention will have made the best it could out of Mr. Truman's refusal to step aside.

It will have made it possible for Senator Barkley to become the caretaker of the party once Mr. Truman leaves the White House. For, while Mr. Barkley is only the second man on the ticket, he will be the first man of the party when it becomes the opposition.

Only in Congress will the Democratic party play a responsible part in the national government. Senator Barkley is already the Democratic leader in Congress. As the nominee of the convention for vice president, he will have the clearest mandate to exercise his leadership which the party was able to give him.

LIPPMANN

Had the party expected to elect Mr. Truman it would not have turned to an elder statesman to be his running mate. The choice of Barkley who is older than Truman but is a highly experienced legislator and a trusted party leader is as frank a recognition as the circumstances and the rules of the game permitted that the Democrats have written off this election, and are looking beyond it.

The managers and the orators of the convention came as near to saying this as they could. They dwelt upon the record of the past, upon the achievements of Wilson and Roosevelt, passed over the Truman period in virtual silence, treating it as an interlude, and reaffirmed the big attitudes and aspirations to which a new generation of Democrats, as yet unseen and unknown, will give substance and meaning.

It has been said, notably by Mr. Farley, that the Democratic leaders and bosses did a disservice to the party by manifesting their opposition to Mr. Truman. They have, so runs the complaint, torn down the man whom they were bound to nominate and support.

Mr. Farley is, I think, too preoccupied with the orthodox routine of party organization. The opposition to Truman did not tear down a strong and successful leader. There would not have been the wide and varied opposition if the Truman leadership had not already broken down.

For the different factions to have pretended that they were happy and harmonious would have deceived no one—least of all the disaffected rank and file. It would not have built up the Truman administration.

Vitality Preserved

But it would have ratified the one best thing in the Democratic party. The very thing which will enable it to survive defeat and to recover. That is its vitality and freedom, its enterprise and adventurousness, often undisciplined, sometimes reckless but nevertheless, the secret of its hold upon those who look forward and want to go forward.

Had the convention followed Mr. Farley's advice and shown itself to be complacent, partisan to the point of hypocrisy, the result would have been more melancholy than it is. For then, in addition to certain defeat this year the party would have made it much more difficult for those who cannot support Truman now to remain Democrats for the future. They would have been homeless, unable to stay with the Truman Democrats, unable to go to Wallace.

The great clatter of the anti-Truman opposition was the noise of the doors being forced wide open for a new generation to enter.

The new generation of Democrats will not be ready and available for some years to come. Nor, unless there is a national or international catastrophe, are the Democrats likely to return for at least eight years, perhaps for 12 or 16 years.

Under Dewey and Warren there is every reason to anticipate a long period of Republican rule. For Dewey is not only likely to be an extremely competent president but an astute party leader as well, quite capable of holding the conservatives while he reaches out for the progressives.

For some considerable time, therefore, the Democratic opposition will not be dealing with the Republican party they have been used to for the past 16 years—but with something much more formidable, more intelligent, more attractive—with a party which moves in the tradition of Theodore Roosevelt, of Hoot of Stimson rather than of Hoover, Coolidge and Landon.

Menace to Power

By The Associated Press

OSLO—The municipal authorities in the small community of Valmyfjord, southwestern Norway, have declared war upon woodpeckers. The birds have concentrated their efforts in an attempt to break down the electricity supply of the small community. The wooden posts, supporting the transmission wires, have been damaged, and are now to be replaced by new ones. The authorities are paying $1 for every woodpecker killed.

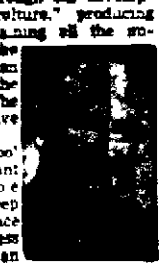
Fortitude I take to be the quiet possession of a man's self, and an undisturbed doing his duty whatever evils beset or dangers lie in the way.—John Locke.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Vegetable Plates From Ocean Bottoms

The University of California is conducting experiments which I thinks prove seas may be able to get ten times as much food from the depths of the seas as he gets from the earth. It will be made possible through the development of a "marine agriculture," producing underwater vegetables containing all the important elements found in the ones we eat today. The Man With the Hoe may become the Man in the Diving Suit. The farmer of tomorrow may have to be an aquatic star.



PHILLIPS

Atomic energy is the tool through which marine plants life can be changed into edible food. Gangway for the deep sea potato, the head of lettuce grown on a reef and the mess of string beans fresh from an oyster bed.

A drastic cut in the cost of living is promised. But we suspect the food profiteers are already chartering submarines for some dirty work in the produce market.

• • •

Already University of California chemists have found a way to take the single-cell marine plants (algae) and convert them into tasty foods which can be produced in abundance in due time. The food problem of mankind could be solved as never before by perfection of the discoveries already made, it is declared.

• • •

As Masefield might put it:

I must go down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and the sky
And all I ask is a deep-sea farm and a star to reach it by
And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking
And a big net for the sea spuds of a size for baking.

I must go down to the seas again for the call of the running tide
Is a wild call to a farm life that cannot be denied
And all I ask is a calm day with the clouds grown thinner
For a full crop of the right stuff for a blue plate dinner.

• • •

Farmers told of the University discovery are only mildly excited. None was reported moving the cowsheds closer to the ocean so he could harvest the deep sea corn and still have time to milk the cows in a set of waterwings. The ones we interviewed seemed to think they would stick to their blue jeans and defer any shift to oilskins and sou-westers.

• • •

On the other hand we encountered any number of home-garden folks who were so disgusted with their flings at agriculture on dry land that they were willing to jump off the nearest dock in search of a decent crop of string beans any time.

• • •

No change in the line of farmers' daughter gags is reported, but the tiller of the oceans will obviously have a daughter who is a bathing girl and her adventures will be with a submarine skipper rather than a traveling salesman.

• • •

However the whole idea of marine agriculture intrigues us. We have always wanted to see a vitamin that could swim.

LAMENT OF A B. R. T. TRAVELER

The I.C.C., the I.C.C.—
It loves the roads, not you and me!

• • •

Railroad and Pullman fares have been upped another 20 per cent. The public looks crushed between the cowcatcher and the pocketbook.

• • •

To ride in a railroad coach has now become so expensive that when Elmer Twitchell negotiates for a trip in one he asks: "Does this include heater, radio and spare tire?"

"The alleged Communistic head of the department store unions were ejected from the hearing."—News item. The proper query to the sergeants at arms might have been, "Do you wish to take these out with you or have them wrapped and sent?"

Sweet Mysteries of Life

By TRUMAN TWILL

Among the things that are hard to understand are these:

How anyone in an automobile wanting to pick up a person with a right to be a passenger in the automobile, such as a wife can do this without double parking—yet no one loves a double parker and he is cursed and scourged by the police as though he had committed mortal sin.

How the notion can linger in the minds of so many politicians that nothing has happened to the school of oratory whose prize pupil in this century was William Jennings Bryan—or haven't they noticed what happened to old-time ham actors?

How gougers making the most of inflation can have the gall to complain that they're taking it in the neck—when all the time money is running out of their ears and dropping into their overcrowded dinner plates.

How the citizens of a free country where people have a right to vote can fail to see the connection between failure to vote and complaints that freedom is in danger from enemies—who couldn't get to 1st base if people wouldn't let them.

How radio fans who would squawk so loud you couldn't hear Spike Jones if they were asked to pay for what they listen to have the crust to complain about radio advertisers who pay the freight—because it doesn't say anywhere that listening to advertising is compulsory, does it?

How the idea started that being a baseball spectator gives a human being the right to behave like a hoodlum—and why baseball should be regarded as different in this respect from football, basketball, tennis and so on where a boo-bird would get punched in the nose.

How long it will take to equip every citizen of the country with a writing implement that will go on writing forever and a day—and then what will happen to the writing implement business?

How so many otherwise intelligent men can convince themselves they are the ones who could sweep the country in a presidential election—as witness the memoirs of the late New Dealers, all of whom apparently felt certain they could step into Franklin D. Roosevelt's shoes if he only would step out of them.

How the few men who somehow manage to keep from looking rumpled in the summertime can do it—or don't they ever sit in chairs, ride in automobiles, or do any of the 300-odd things that make creases where no creases should be?

How it is possible to concentrate on weighty matters in the good old summertime when the birds are warbling musical nonsense overhead, the open road beckons, the hammock begs to be occupied and rocking chairs are waiting to be rocked—and could that be one of the reasons why mischief makers seem to prefer warm weather for their devilry—knowing that millions will be too preoccupied with other matters to do anything about it?

WOMEN WANT PEACE

By The United Press

NEW YORK—Women all over the world fear war and are trying to promote understanding among nations so that peace can be maintained Mrs. Ambrose N Diehl said on her return from a four-month global trip Mrs Diehl, president of the National Council of Women of the United States, said she found that in women in India exerted more influence in their country's affairs than the women of any other country she visited

Approximately 2,000,000 people live on the South Sea Islands of the Pacific

Dewey vs. Truman—Shake Hands, Come Out Fightin'

SPORTSMANSHIP Truman and Dewey shake hands. This is what happened in New York on last St Patrick's day

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Presidential nominee Dewey has replaced the Republican-dominated congress as the chief opponent of the Truman administration

If 46 year-old Governor Dewey is elected, he will be the third youngest president in American history If 64-year-old Harry S Truman is elected he will be the fourth oldest man to win a presidential race

Besides the disparity in age the two contenders differ widely in personality and political background There is also a marked contrast in their style of political speech-making

President Truman is folksy enjoys small chat, likes to exchange banter with visitors to the executive mansion He often plays jokes on members of his staff and White House reporters.

Dewey is naturally formal and reserved although he has developed a more cordial personality since the 1944 campaign Few persons call him "Tom," even members of his loyal staff They address him as "Governor"

Different Type Speakers

President Truman's most appealing political speeches are usually "off the cuff" When he makes a short impromptu talk, he uses down-to-earth words which voters easily understand He isn't so effective when reading a prepared address

Gov Dewey has one of the best radio voices in politics His polished speeches are very carefully composed often give the impression of having been thoroughly rehearsed Both men could provide a musical touch to the campaign—President Truman at the piano and Gov Dewey singing with a resonant baritone

Dewey, in his sixth year as governor of New York, has had longer experience as a political administrator President Truman on the other hand, has been in "the big seat" for more than three trouble-packed years He was a United States senator for 10 years won favorable attention as chairman of a senate war production investigating committee He was vice president for less than three months when President Roosevelt died

Dewey Strong on Offensive

Dewey is a lawyer who gained nationwide prominence as a racket-smashing district attorney in New York City He will have the so-called technical advantage of being on the offensive He will accuse the President of being responsible for troubles that have arisen during his administration

Much of the Truman counter-attack however probably will be aimed at the Republican-controlled congress He already has lambasted congress for failing to give him power to help control the high cost of living

Gov Dewey has said that the Democratic administration's huge expenditures over a long period were the cause of inflation His pre nomination attacks on President Truman's foreign policy were largely charges of muddle-headed handling of relations with Russia

Points of Agreement

Like President Truman however he favored the full amount of Marshall Plan appropriations He took a position similar to the President when he said this country should not start private negotiations (with Russia) leaving any of the other free nations outside

Both men have urged a strong military force speeding up of the nation's river and power projects, and parity price protection for farmers

The general theme song of the campaign probably will be the customary "I can do it better"

At Democratic Convention

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

PHILADELPHIA

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has opened his campaign for the presidency with a sharp, tough, fighting challenge to the Republicans to stand and deliver

He did it today in his speech before the Democratic convention, accepting the presidential nomination.

Right at the end of his speech he announced he is calling the Republican - controlled congress back into special session July 26 That means this

He's going to ask congress to pass certain measures such as those aimed at curbing the high cost of living

2 But most of what he said he will ask for is something which the Republicans — in their own 1948 platform — worked out here two weeks ago — and say needs be done or studied.

James Marlow

3 That will put the Republicans on the spot of having to defend on their platform promises which they made in an attempt to win the elections in November

But before looking any further into Mr Truman's attempt to put the Republicans over a barrel, this is something to remember as the political campaigns get under way

In his speech he very clearly outlined the Democratic party's campaign tactics in trying to win the presidency and control of congress.

1 Claim credit for the Democratic party for all the good things congress and the government have done since Franklin D Roosevelt became president in 1933

2. Attack the present Republican-controlled congress as a do-nothing—or do-badly—friend of the rich and blame it for the things left undone.

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE of what you'll be hearing about No 1

Mr Truman pointed to the tremendous rise in the earnings of workers and farmers since 1932 and said both groups would be "ungrateful" if they didn't vote for his Democratic party

Here are examples of No. 2:

A. The high cost of living and the end of OPA and price control Mr Truman blamed them on the present Republican congress. In the special session he's going to ask congress to do something about stopping inflation.

(In their 1948 platform the Republicans "pledge an attack upon the basic causes of inflation)

B. Mr Truman blamed this congress for failing to pass a strong federal housing bill to wipe out slums and provide low-cost rentals. He said he will ask the special session to act on lower housing prices

THIS CONGRESS, just before it quit in June, did pass a housing bill But Mr Truman said this is worthless

(The Republican platform says the government "can and should encourage the building of better homes at less cost" and "recommends federal aid to the states for local slum-clearance and low-rental housing programs" when private enterprise can't do the job.)

C Mr Truman blamed this congress for failing to pass a health program that would provide more medical care. So, he said, he'll ask the special session to do that.

(The Republican platform says the Republicans "urge" strengthening of federal-state programs to provide more medical care.)

D. Mr. Truman blamed this congress for not passing a law that would bring more people within the benefits of social security Further, he said, congress actually knocked 750,000 people out from under the protection of social security. So, he said he will ask congress to bring more people under social security

(THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM says the Republicans are for widening social security benefits.)

E. Federal aid to education. Mr Truman blamed congress for not voting such help. He had asked it to vote $300,000,000 in federal money to give that kind of aid. So he's going to ask for federal aid to education.

(The Republican platform plank on education says "we favor equality of educational opportunity for all and the promotion of education and educational facilities.")

F Mr Truman blamed this congress for not acting on the civil rights program he recommended to it last February That program included an anti-lynching law, a law wiping out the poll tax and other things. Such a program would have helped Negroes mostly, and mainly in the south. So he'll ask for action by the special session on civil rights.

(The Republican platform calls for "prompt enactment" of a law to stop lynching, an end to the poll tax and other things.)

PAUL BENGE NAMED ON COUNTY AGENCY

Will Serve with Farmers' Home Administration.

Appointment of Paul R. Benge of Route No. 1, Marion to a three-year term on the farmers' home administration county committee for Marion county was announced today by A. L. Sorensen, state director.

Mr. Benge succeeds Mrs. Mabel I. Dobbins, whose term expired June 30. Also on the committee are Clyde V. Beaver of Route 2, Marion, and Walter A. Mautz of Route 7, Marion. A committee of three serves in each agricultural county throughout the nation in which the agency makes farm ownership and operating loans. Appointments are scheduled so that a committee always has two experienced members.

The Marion county committee has an important place in making supervised credit available to local farmers, according to H. V. Anderson, county supervisor.

Before any money can be borrowed through the agency an applicant must have the approval of the county committee. In the case of farm ownership loans the farm to be purchased, enlarged or improved must also be approved by the committee. "The members know agricultural conditions in the county are often familiar with the farm the applicant plans to operate," Mr. Anderson explained.

In addition to approving loans the committee cooperates with the county supervisor in overall administration of the program in the county. Periodically they review the progress of borrowers to determine whether they have reached a financial position that would enable them to refinance their loans through private lenders. A farmer who is eligible for credit from regular lending sources is not eligible for a loan from the farmers home administration.

NEW-CAR VICTIMS SETTLE AT A LOSS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 15—People who gave John W. Singleton money for almost-new cars which they never received will have to settle their claims for a few cents on the dollar, says an attorney in the case.

Theodore R. Spilka, attorney for the trustee in bankruptcy for the former auto dealer, says $82,500 in cash is at hand, and a few thousand dollars more may come in.

But the claims total $991,369, including $961,369 demanded by 807 persons who say they made advance deposits on automobiles, he added.

Singleton was convicted of larceny by trick and now is serving a term in Ohio penitentiary.

Dewey Headquarters To Open in Capital

By The United Press

NEW YORK, July 15—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's campaign managers will swing into action next week when national headquarters are opened in Washington, it was reported today.

Herbert Brownell Jr., his chief political adviser, and national GOP Chairman Hugh Scott will direct the drive.

Gov. Dewey said he was departing from the usual procedure of running the campaign from New York City because he wanted his managers to work in close harmony with the party's national committee.

FFA MEMBERS WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

McCutchenville, Radnor, Mt. Victory Boys Included.

Boys from adjoining and nearby counties are among the 31 Ohio youths, outstanding members of the Future Farmers of America, named as winners of the annual Sohio scholarships offered by the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, it was announced today from the company's Cleveland office.

Winners from Mt. Victory are Loren Harder and Harold Gamble and from Radnor are Lowell Hetzner and Donald Davis. William Behsler and Joe Allgire were named winners from Fredericktown, and Charles Beuschler of McCutchenville.

The boys, two from each of the 17 districts of the FFA in the state, will attend camp sessions at Camp Muskingum, Conotton, O., the first two weeks in August. Sophomores and juniors in high school are eligible and are judged on the basis of their records during the last year in repair operation and construction projects carried on in their high school vocational agriculture farm shops. The work of the applicants is judged by a special committee in each district appointed by the district chairman of the FFA.

Bus Co. Ends Strike As Increased Fares Begin

By The Associated Press

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 15—End of a 25-day strike yesterday by 127 drivers of the Valley Motor Transit Co. was marked by collection of increased bus fares. The company started collecting 10 cents cash and 8 cents for tickets.

The company serves 20 Ohio river communities between Steubenville and Beaver, Pa. Earlier this week mayors of East Liverpool and Steubenville signed ordinances approving the fare raise shortly before expiration of a 12-day strike truce.

The new wage scale is $1.16 an hour for drivers and 97 cents to $1.31½ for maintenance employes.

DEMOCRATIC STANDARD BEARERS ACCEPT NOMINATION. Climaxing an exhausting night session, battle-torn and weary delegates to the 1948 Democratic national convention early Thursday morning selected two strictly "grass roots" men—ex-farm boys Harry S. Truman, 64, of Missouri, President of the United States, and Sen. Alben W. Barkley, 70, of Kentucky—as their nominees for president and vice president in the November elections. They are shown clasping hands as they receive a thunderous ovation in Philadelphia's Convention hall. In his 2 a. m. acceptance address, President Truman dropped a bombshell by calling a special session of congress July 26 to deal with the domestic problem of high prices and living costs. VORYS IS CRITICAL OF CONGRESS CALL

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 15 — President Truman's call for congress to return was called an unsuccessful effort to spend and elect" today by Rep. John M. Vorys, (R) of Ohio.

Rep. Vorys said it is the same old New Deal stuff—a synthetic emergency warmed over once more in a last desperate effort to spend and elect. It is 100 per cent politics and will be a 100 per cent failure."

"Congress won't let him spend and the people won't elect him," Vorys said. "Everything he asks means money and power for him. We haven't got the money. We won't give him any new powers to play with for six months."

The Ohio representative said he thought Mr. Truman's proposal would cost roughly about $2 billion dollars.

"His appeal is about as dramatic and effective as that tired pigeon act. He is far too confused to know it is time for him to go home," he added.

POLICE GET BIRD IN POLICY GAMES TRIAL

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 15 — Policemen received turkeys for Christmas from operators of policy games, says a witness in the bribery trial of former Police Lieutenant Ernest L. Molnar. A police sergeant directed the distribution of the turkeys, said Fletcher Hudson from the witness stand in common pleas court.

He identified the sergeant as Richard G. Ford, who recently was suspended from the force for a month for associating with known criminals. The same investigation resulted in the indictment of Molnar on charges of receiving $80,000 in bribes from gamblers and policy operators.

Hudson said he took a load of turkeys to the west side 'around Christmas time of 1945" and "Sergeant Ford had the list of addresses," accompanying him in the trip to direct the distribution.

CONVENTION

was about the biggest outburst the Democrats have produced in the last four years.

Touched off by a nominating speech by Gov. Phil Donnelly of Mr. Truman's native Missouri, it lasted 38 minutes. But screams from a siren and music from a band and organ, found the southern delegations which had supported Russell sitting silently grimly holding on to their state standards.

Russell Parade Slow

By contrast, the 20-minute show Dixieland put on for Russell had a hard time getting started but was more liberally sprinkled with rebel yells.

For six minutes the Russell supporters struggled to make what noise they could vocally. Then national Chairman J. Howard McGrath told an aide "Get these boys some music."

The band burst into 'Dixie' and the show was on the road. State flags and a color-crayon drawing of the Confederate banner furnished color.

But that was about all the Dixie delegations had to yell about.

They put Russell, who has called Mr. Truman's proposals a civil wrongs program as their protest candidate after Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas quit the race.

They collected slightly less than one-fifth of the convention's 1,234 votes for their candidates.

They took a bad licking 925 to 309 in an attempt to tack on to the platform a states rights statement.

But the crowning blow as the 651½ to 582½ vote by which the convention decided to write into the platform a flat endorsement of Mr. Truman's civil rights program.

All in all it was a revolt that failed so far as the convention was concerned.

What it would accomplish at Birmingham day after tomorrow remained to be seen.

The southerners also pushed Russell's name into the vice pres dential contest. But soon it was withdrawn at Russell's own request. That left Barkley a clear field to the nomination by acclamation.

Mr. Truman lost little time in getting back to the capital after his speech. His special train pulled into Washington at 5:10 a. m. after a two-hour and 10-minute trip back from Philadelphia.

Despite the hour aides said the President would meet with his staff at the usual 10 a. m. they added that the formal call for the special session will be ready within 36 hours.

Railroads in Ohio To Increase Fares

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 15—Railroads operating in Ohio were authorized today to increase their passenger fares to the level of a nationwide boost that goes into effect July 19.

The state utilities commission said the increases conform with fare boosts granted for the entire country on July 7 by the interstate commerce commission.

Coach fares will be upped 20 per cent and sleeping and parlor car fares 14.3 per cent. First class fares will be four cents a mile under 225 miles and 3.6 cents a mile for distances over 700 miles.

Body of Baby Sitter Returned to Kentucky

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, July 15 — The body of a 20-year-old baby sitter, Helen Adkins, killed Tuesday morning in Columbus when she jumped from an automobile, was expected to arrive at her Jenkins, Ky., home today.

Franklin county sheriff's deputies said her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Adkins, left Columbus late last night after filing a first degree murder charge against Lawrence Cook, 21, the father of two children.

Cook, who is separated from his wife, pleaded innocent and was held for the grand jury without bond under a seldom-used section of Ohio's Lindbergh law.

The law states that the abduction of a woman for immoral purposes, resulting in death, is punishable by death.

FRANCE SADDENED BY PERSHING DEATH

By The Associated Press

PARIS, July 15—France was saddened today by the death of Gen. John J. Pershing, a hero to Frenchmen and one who did much to cement their historical bond with the United States.

President Vincent Auriol cancelled appointments and retired to his study to write an official message to President Truman. Premier Robert Schuman also prepared a statement.

One of Pershing's lifelong friends, 92-year-old Marshal Henri Petain, will be told of Pershing's death either tonight or tomorrow. The aged marshal, is serving a life sentence on charges growing out of the part he played in the Vichy government during the German occupation.

Pershing met Petain June 17, 1917, the day after the American general's famous visit to the tomb of LaFayette. Of this meeting Pershing wrote in his memoirs:

'My impression of Petain was favorable and it remained unchanged throughout the war."

When Petain was tried on charges equivalent to treason, Pershing wrote to him:

'I cannot believe that the charges which are levelled against you are true.'

Once, when Gen. Charles De Gaulle visited Pershing," the American general told him:

Don't forget to remember me to my old friend Petain."

It was De Gaulle then president of France who commuted Petain's death sentence to life imprisonment.

Train Fireman Injured In Boiler Explosion

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, July 15—An Erie railroad fireman was critically injured today when a boiler exploded in a switch engine on Cleveland's east side.

The victim was identified as Frank Mihlan, 32. He was reported in serious condition at St. Vincent Charity hospital.

Police said he was firing the boiler when it exploded. They said he is not expected to live.

MRS. CLEM M'COY RITES AT KENTON

By The Associated Press

KENTON, O., July 15 — Funeral services were held here today for Mrs. Clem D. McCoy, who was critically ill at home during the days of the Chautauqua as an interpreter of Scottish writers.

Mrs. McCoy died at her home here Tuesday at the age of 87. On the Chautauqua and lecture platform she was known as Katherine Oliver McCoy.

For many years, especially in the heyday of the Chautauqua she gave monologue renditions of the works of Scottish literary celebrities. They included J. M. Barrie, Ian MacLaren, S. R. Crockett, Norman Duncan and Robert Burns.

She was born in Tolono, Ill.

In 1902 she was married to Dr. Clem D. McCoy. The McCoys lived here most of the time except for a period from 1928 to 1943 when they made their home at La Feria, Texas. Mrs. McCoy is survived by her husband and a sister, Mrs. Swan Wiley of Newtown, Conn.

Of the Jews now in Palestine, approximately 40 per cent came there originally from Poland.

DRAIN PLAN GOES AHEAD

2,000 Landowners To Be Affected by Proposed Drainage Project.

Special to The Star

KENTON July 15—More than 2,000 landowners will be affected the Hog Creek drainage project which has been proposed in Hardin county Notices have been sent out for a hearing on assessments which will be conducted before the county commissioners July 28

The proposed project involves about eight and a half miles of ding Creek itself and totals 40 miles ... The cost of the project has been estimated by engineers at $313,803.-96

Considerable ... gation has followed repeated attempts in clearing out the ... of previous years ... At Ada ... in 1896 when the Hog Creek ... Ada ... was dredged. The ... of the trees

Since 1896 farmers ... estimate that ... and blowing away of the ... in the marsh area has lowered ... some two feet. That ... makes ... present ... the ... ages to prove ... take care of heavy rainfall

Farmers on the Hog Creek marsh area complain that they have been unable to raise crops for four or five years because of flooded fields

In the early 20s I. a Marshall established a world's champion corn growing record on one of the farms in the Hog Creek marsh He raised an average of 100 bushels to the acre That same farm at one time considered among the most fertile in the world, has suffered four successive crop failures, attributed directly to bad drainage

Where Harding Went To College

Shown above is a picture of the Iberia college founded in 1854 on the Marion-Mansfield wagon road one mile west of the B. & O. Four railroad in Iberia More than 20 years later the college became known as the Ohio Central College where Warren G Harding was enrolled as a student.

By W. DOYLE RUSK

The influence of a small ... village helped to shape the destiny of the United States of America Morrow county folk learned as they searched the pages of history in connection with the country's Centennial observance on July 3 4 and 5

Early Morrow countians were granted an educational privilege with the founding of Iberia college on the Marion-Mansfield wagon road one mile west of the Big Four railroad, in the year of 1854.

In 1875 the college became known as Ohio Central college and served the state as a non-sectarian but Christian institution

Warren G Harding of Marion, who was destined to become the 29th president of the United States enrolled at Ohio Central college and became one of the institution's outstanding students At the age of 16 Harding became editor and publisher of a semi-monthly paper known as "The Spectator." He was associated with the late Frank Miller in the enterprise

The two newspaper men participated in the college's 25th annual commencement exercises Harding speaking on the subject, "You Can't Rub It Out" and Miller "Our Place Among Nations." Mr. Harding later became publisher of The Marion Star

The college succeeded in 1865 and the State of Ohio established a working home for the blind. A disastrous fire, in 1894, destroyed the buildings. The Iberia school was later built on the college grounds.

STEEL PRICES TO GO UP, COMPANIES SAY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK July 15 — Price increases about to be announced by steel companies "will be substantial — much larger than at first thought," the Iron Age metal-working trade weekly, said yesterday

Widest advances may be posted by U S Steel, which the publication said initiated the ill-fated anti-inflation drive by cutting prices "deeper and on a wider variety of products than most other large companies."

"They raise the rate as much as a half cent a pound or $10 a ton," it added

Describing this as a "red letter week" the Iron Age said "The steelworkers will get a good raise in pay with a security package The steel customers will get the biggest bump in prices seen in years. But this time the steel industry leads the parade in the widest round of wages and prices."

Even with the new price advances, the weekly commented, the steel industry will not have push-but nervous steels by other industries.

Friends Here Recall Three Pershing Visits to Marion

General John J Pershing was a familiar figure in Marion during the colorful days of the city's centennial celebration in July of 1922 and his visit here in company with President and Mrs Harding and General and Mrs Charles G. Dawes is remembered by many residents

The first time General Pershing visited the city was in the Harding campaign of 1920 In July or August he came here from Chicago out of uniform preferring to be a private citizen during his brief stay He stayed two days and one night at the Harding home on Mt Vernon avenue and on the evening of his stay was entertained at dinner at the old Marion club and late at the D R Crissinger home

Here for Centennial

When he came back for the centennial he was a member of a party including President and Mrs Harding and General and Mrs Charles G Dawes Among his personal staff was his aide Major Quackenbush who made a number of friends in Marion

During the party's stay in Marion President and Mrs Harding were entertained by Mrs Harding's brother and sister-in-law Mr and Mrs Clifford Kling General Pershing and his staff were guests of Dr and Mrs Carl W Sawyer and General and Mrs Dawes were entertained by Brigadier General and Mrs C F Sawyer at White Oaks farm

The party was in Marion for about four days and took part in the varied centennial programs General Pershing gave the principal address at the Fourth of July program at the fairgrounds following greetings from President Harding to his fellow-townsmen Among public affairs attended by the general was a dinner given by the Rotary club at Epworth M E church

General Pershing and President Harding held for each other more than the ordinary regard of a chief executive and the commanding head of the Army. Marion friends say today It is be-

[illegible] during the Harding presidency although Harding had known the general through his serving as a United States senator

In Washington President and Mrs Harding and General Pershing established a warm personal friendship which lasted throughout the two lifetime

The last visit General Pershing made to Marion was a city [illegible] Pershing was [illegible] Harding was [illegible] Saxon [illegible]

General Pershing was called [illegible] that [illegible] who [illegible] [illegible]

Mayor Ray A Dickey [illegible] President Hotel The [illegible] late in May of 1919 when they were in the Army of Occupation in Germany that General Pershing reviewed the entire division at [illegible] near Ahrweiler The late George T Gerard Marion attorney was a major in the [illegible] and many veterans in Marion and city were in the lines that formed for the general's review

REUNIONS

The fifty-third [illegible] of the Seidhart family was held Sunday at Seidhart park [illegible] on the Ohio [illegible] Alvin Augenstein was in charge of [illegible] Elected president for next year was Hattie Seidhart Mt Augenstein was elected vice president and Mrs Edith Welsh secretary and treasurer A basket dinner was served

HOSTESS TO UNION

Mrs Fred Upton of Park boulevard was hostess for a meeting of the Florence Richards Union of the WCTU Tuesday afternoon Devotions were conducted by Mrs Upton and Mrs L J McCleary Mrs Bertha Barkley reviewed the magazine "Union Signals" and Mrs H C Murphy gave the lesson study The August meeting will be with Mrs Cora Klingel on Park boulevard

Gen. Pershing Dies in Capital

[illegible] Force in 1917 was preceded [illegible] the first [illegible] to Mexico after the bandit raids [illegible]

Pershing took personal command of the American troops sent to France in World War I and immediately became involved in a bitter dispute with the Allied commanders who wanted to break the American Army and [illegible] the French and British armies whenever necessary

The American general flatly refused [illegible] lose their identity a position for which he still was under attack 20 years later from such men as Lloyd George wartime British prime minister

Pershing became chief of staff after the first World War in 1921 Three years later at the age of 64 he retired

Wanted To Enter Germany

John Joseph Pershing led America's armies to victory in World War I and wanted to push on into the heart of Germany and stamp out every vestige of militarism but his counsel did not prevail and the Allies halted at the Rhine when the Armistice ended that conflict

The militarism then left smouldering erupted a generation later into the greater World War II and as the old soldier closely followed the campaigns of that struggle he looked with satisfaction at the evidences that this time the Allies intended to crush the German war making machine beyond any point of recovery and do the same with Japan's

"If we had gone on to Berlin in the last war we probably would not have been in this fight" General of the Armies Pershing said when Gen Charles de Gaulle as a representative of the French Liberation Movement visited him in 1944

On his 85th birthday in 1945—World War II victory had been won then—Pershing was hailed by President Harry S Truman as a "great soldier who happily exemplified also the vision of a statesman"

Once a School Teacher

"This should be one of the happiest of your many birthdays as you remember that this time we went all the way through to Berlin as you counseled in 1918 the Chief Executive's message said

Born September 13 1860 in Linn county Mo near Laclede, General Pershing was the son of a section foreman of the Hannibal and St Joseph railway, now a part of the Burlington system When he was 12 he joined the Methodist church, but in later years became a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal

He taught school near his home and attended the Kirksville Normal school alternately It was while at Kirksville that a paragraph in a newspaper caught his eye and resulted in the reshaping of his life This news item told of competitive examinations for the United States Military Academy and the young schoolmaster took advantage of the opportunity winning his appointment to West Point in 1882

Soon after being commissioned a second lieutenant of cavalry in 1886 he went with his regiment to frontier duty in Arizona chasing the Apache Indians of Chief Geronimo and a few years later he commanded Sioux scouts sent into the Dakota territory when Sitting Bull and others believing that the Indian Messiah was due threatened to rise against the white

Subdues Moro Chieftain

Pershing was an instructor at West Point when the war with Spain began in 1898 He was sent to Cuba where he served before Santiago and was twice recommended for brevet promotion for gallantry

As a major of federal volunteers he was recalled for staff duty in Washington after the war and organized the insular bureau of the War Department His next field assignment took him to the Philippines as adjutant general of the Mindanao-Jolo district out of which grew the opportunity for his first swift step upward

Subjugation of the Moro chieftain the sultan of Bacalan, was the feat for which President Theodore Roosevelt made Pershing a brigadier general passing over 800 fellow officers in the regular army grades of major lieutenant colonel and colonel

There was a sharp controversy over that The fact that Pershing's father-in-law was then Senator Francis E Warren of Wyoming was emphasized and there were charges of political favoritism

It was Sept 20, 1906 five years after the Moro campaign before the promotion became a fact and in the meantime Pershing had another taste of warfare as a military observer of the Russo-Japanese war

Wife, Daughters Perish

In the December following his promotion General Pershing returned to the Philippines and remained there for the next seven years becoming governor of the Moro province There was difficulty with the Moros for some time but by 1913 the province was completely pacified and Pershing received high tribal honors from the very people he had subjugated

When the Mexican - United States crisis came in 1916 General Pershing was commanding the mobile forces on the Mexican border under Gen Frederick Funston as department commander

Because of the virtual campaign status of his command he left his wife the former Miss Helen F Warren and his three daughters and son at his quarters at the Presidio San Francisco During the night of Aug 27 1915 the residence burned Mrs Pershing and the daughters perishing in the flames The son, Warren was carried to safety by a nurse

Francisco Villa the Mexican bandit raided the border town of Columbus N M in March 1916 killing and wounding several Americans and carrying away considerable loot President Woodrow Wilson ordered a punitive expedition in pursuit

Named A.E.F Commander

Pershing crossed the border with 10 000 men seven days behind Villa The hunt continued for nearly a year until the trail finally vanished The difficulties he overcame as leader of a military force operating in a country with which the United States was not at war aroused the respect of President Wilson and Secretary of War Newton D Baker

It was in recognition of that service that he was chosen over all his seniors in the service to command the American Expeditionary Force in France when American entry into World War I came on April 6 1917 Again he had been preferred this time by a Democratic President and War Secretary because soldierly traits were so strong in him

General Pershing sailed for France on May 28 1917 and that was the beginning of World War I's A E F that grew to a strength of 2 000 000

His control and responsibility extended to every part of the vast American military organization that with mushroom growth spread from the French coast to the shell racked front of the Meuse Argonne offensive where the last vital battles of the war were fought and the back of the German line in France broken by the Franco-American drive to Sedan

Gives Credit to Men

Pershing insisted always that the true credit for victory rested with the rank and file In his final report as commander of the A E F he was lavish in praise for the heroism, patience and unflinching spirit of offensive action of his men

Of his own 'spirit of offensive action' the general gave an insight in that same report Speaking of the day in July 1918 when the German drive had exhausted itself he said

"The great [illegible] Marne-Champagne [illegible] They offensive established the deep Marne salient but the enemy had already [illegible] and the [illegible] by its own [illegible] turned to the advantage Seizing this opportunity [illegible] my conviction every [illegible] with any sort of training was made available for use [illegible] offensive"

That counter [illegible] marked the definite passing [illegible] Allies from defensive to [illegible] of offensive warfare Pershing's [illegible] was signalized by the grand American assault on the St Mihiel salient [illegible] pressing pressure from Field Marshal Ferdinand Foch the Allied generalissimo to drive about across the rear [illegible] widely acquiesced [illegible] frontal attack through the Meuse Argonne

The day came when American troops looking from a hard won ridge at the approaches to Sedan were halted by the Armistice and then marched peaceably [illegible] nation on the banks of the Rhine

General Pershing [illegible] completed just before his [illegible] birthday related that from the time he arrived in France [illegible] the storm center of [illegible] employment of American [illegible] the battle [illegible] new American armies of [illegible] and Flanders Battle [illegible] [illegible] allied [illegible] [illegible] ing and serving to [illegible] tion of American [illegible]

On [illegible] Clemenceau [illegible] to get President Wilson [illegible] Pershing [illegible] President in complete agreement with his general

Two decades after World War I ended Pershing was [illegible] cussed in the fifth volume of the memoirs of David Lloyd George Britain's Prime Minister during the conflict [illegible] sence that the A E F be maintained as a separate army under American command Pershing declined [illegible]

He [illegible] the [illegible] universal [illegible] America [illegible] the [illegible] Without American [illegible] no [illegible] been [illegible]

He [illegible] was made in [illegible] England [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

LENIN ASSOCIATE REBUKES RUSSIANS

By The Associated Press

YELLOW SPRINGS, O., July 15—A former associate of Lenin and Trotsky said yesterday that totalitarianism — including the Russian form—implies war implicitly

Dr Angelica Balabanoff, who was First Secretary of the Communist International after the 1917 Russian Revolution, made the statement in a talk before the Antioch college Institute on International Relations

She said "America must be the leading nation to help bring economic justice in Europe," and that a resurge of Fascism could be checked only "if economic conditions the masses face are improved."

Dr Balabanoff said she broke with the Bolsheviks after she became disillusioned with their methods In her talk, she tied the proposed economic aid to Europe to "the possibility of stopping the aggression and diffusion of Bolshevism."

"Totalitarianism implies war implicitly," she said. Dr Balabanoff added that Communism had ceased to be a boon to the Russian people

"What the revolution was to usher in as a socialist movement is now a thoroughly anti-socialist system," she said, adding

"There is no economic equality and an absolute lack of freedom."

The Institute is sponsored by the American Friends Service committee and Antioch college It is scheduled to close Saturday.

Your Good Health

By DR. BERMAN H. BERNSTEIN

Serious Condition Children May Develop

Children not infrequently develop periods when the disorder becomes a serious condition known comes worse or when some impaired or fatty nephrosis. While fection develops.

Its cause is unknown, its effects are well understood. Unfortunately we know of no preventive measures. They are grave because in some way large amounts of protein are pulled out of the child's body tissues and excreted in the urine as albumin. In addition, there is edema or a collection of fluid in the tissues.

Unfortunately, we have no cure. Nor do we know of any way in which to shorten the course of this disease. However, good nursing care, proper diet, and the prevention of infection can do much to safeguard its child victims against its worst effects.

It seems advisable that a child with this condition be kept in a hospital. However, he does not need to stay in bed except during periods when the disorder becomes worse or when some infection develops.

It is of greatest importance that a diet high in protein, such as meat, milk and eggs, be employed. The diet also should supply plenty of starchy foods and sugars but should be low in fats and salt. Fats are restricted, to lessen fat deposits in the kidneys. Feedings should be given five times a day. The amount of fluids taken by mouth is not restricted. The intake of vitamins should be at least double the normal amount.

There may be periods during which there is loss of appetite, vomiting, or diarrhea. During such periods, it may be necessary to give injections, into the bloodstream, of blood plasma or the fluid part of blood. If there is severe anemia with resulting loss of coloring or red cells in the blood, the injection of whole blood into a vein may be employed.

The particular danger in this disease is from such infections as peritonitis or pneumonia. Should these complications develop they may be combated with the sulfonamide drugs or penicillin. When the symptoms of the nephrosis suddenly become worse it is suggested that treatment with the sulfonamide drugs and penicillin be utilized, even though such infection is not definitely diagnosed. Preparations of amino acids, which are the substances that make up proteins, may be given by injection into a vein several times a day. Special nursing care is important in order to prevent infection of the skin and the development of bedsores.

There are various substances which are used in many cases of kidney disorders which stimulate kidney action and the elimination of fluids. However these substances are not utilized in the treatment of nephrosis in most cases.

Just recently however, some physicians have utilized a product which can be injected into a vein. This substance known as concentrated serum albumin, will very effectively eliminate a great deal of the fluid that has accumulated in the body cells. Its only drawback is that there isn't too much of it available and the price is very high. And too, it must be remembered that it is not a cure but a good temporary relief-obtaining substance.

Questions and Answers

A. R. What can be done to remove superfluous hair on the upper lip?

Answer: Probably the best way to remove superfluous hair is by the use of the electric needle. Excess hair may also be removed by depilatories but the hair will grow it again.

A skin specialist should be consulted regarding the removal of superfluous hair.

REED SPEAKS TO CO. COMMISSIONERS

Special to The Star

GALION, July 15—The Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Company was host Monday night at the July meeting of the Central Northwestern association of county commissioners. Over 100 city, state and county officers were at a dinner at the Fairway club east of Galion. Earl Reed, director of the state department of highways, was guest of honor at the meeting which was attended by commissioners from Crawford, Richland, Delaware, Logan, Hardin, Seneca, Wyandot, Marion, Union and Morrow counties.

James Kelley, clerk of commissioners, was toastmaster and introduced Reed. The director said that the state would award over $50,000,000 in contracts for road construction and improvement this year. Contracts he said will represent a record of mileage repair and construction for the state. He cited a lack of adequate finances caused chiefly by an inflationary period, as preventing much of the work which the highway department would like to see accomplished.

Civil War Hangout Has Come Out of Business

Special to The Star

KENTON, July 15 — One of Kenton's oldest business places, the Robey Tobacco Co. established in 1896 has gone out of business. The room which has vacated will be occupied by The Smorehouse which was started in 1904.

The Robey store was established by D. T. Robey. Frank Pearce who started with the business as manager recorded out 44 years of the same job when the business left.

Robey's ring was the "magic" for the Civil War and Spanish-American War veterans.

Seventy-five gallons of water are used in making one pound of ravon.

3 AUTO ACCIDENTS LISTED BY PATROL

Another Occurs on Highway East of Upper Sandusky.

Three minor automobile accidents and one arrest on a traffic charge in the past 24 hours were included in a report by the state highway patrol today.

A car driven by Miss Elizabeth Fisher of Souderton, Pa., a school teacher, went out of control at 2:30 p. m. yesterday on the wet pavement of highway 30-S about six and one half miles east of Upper Sandusky and ran off the road. Miss Fisher was not injured and only minor damage resulted to the car, the patrol reported.

This is the same stretch of road where numerous accidents have occurred within a distance of approximately seven miles in the last several years, one of which resulted in the death of a Chicago man and injury to six others.

At 4:45 p. m. yesterday on route No. 98 north of Waldo, a car driven by George Smith of Lewisville and one driven by Edward Lambert of Columbus collided but neither driver was injured. Both cars were going south at the time of the collision.

A one-car accident at 8 p. m. yesterday about a half mile south of Galion on highway 30-S in Crawford county, resulted in considerable damage to a car driven by Stanley Schmunk of Mansfield when it went out of control and struck a billboard along the highway. Cause of the accident was not given. Mr. Schmunk was not injured.

The state highway patrol reported one motorist arrested yesterday. Walter W. Gunther of near Mt. Gilead was cited to appear before Justice of the Peace Rinkit of Mt. Gilead following a charge of permitting a person to operate a motor vehicle at 9:45 p. m. on county road No. 19 near New Winchester.

TO SERVE COMMUNION

Communion will be observed at the Green Camp and Prospect Evangelical and Reformed churches Sunday, Rev. Edgar W. Gunther, pastor, announces. The service at Green Camp will be at 9:30 a. m. and at Prospect at 10:45.

TWO MEN BURNED IN TRUCK ACCIDENT

In City Hospital After Crash South of City.

Virgil J. Latter, 28, of Pleasant Hill and James Chambers, 23, of Troy are reported in "fair" condition in City hospital today, suffering from burns received at 6:45 p. m. yesterday when a dump truck driven by one of them struck a utility pole about six and one-half miles south of Marion on route No. 4 near the White Swan restaurant.

The vehicle was set afire when electrical wires which had been broken came in contact with its gas tank.

James Chambers, the more seriously injured of the two, suffered burns over about one-third of his body. Virgil Latter suffered lesser burns about the head, back and arms. Cause of the truck going out of control has not been explained and Latter was too dazed this morning to recall who was driving at the time of the accident.

The men are employed by the Kenton Construction Co. and were returning to the Kenton Construction Block shop at Troy from Marion when the accident occurred.

Dr. J. W. Bull Speaks At Meeting of Grange

Dr. J. W. Bull, Marion physician, was guest speaker and gave a talk pertaining to the heart at a meeting of Progressive Grange Tuesday night in the Grange hall. The program also included a piano solo by Miss Shirley Fett.

Three new members were received. In a no-knead bread contest conducted among the members of the Grange and judged by Miss Mary Faye McMillan, county home demonstration agent, first place was won by Mrs. Clifford McMahan. The program and contest were under the direction of Mrs. Walter Fetter, home economics committee chairman.

A safety program will be presented at the next meeting with a guest patrolman as speaker.

Club Co-Ed Plans Dance For Mid-Summer Season

Club Co-Ed will hold its "get-together" dance from 8 to 12 o'clock Friday night, in the club-rooms located on the first floor of the YMCA. Music will be furnished by Glenn Johnson's orchestra.

This will be the second dance to be held since the new council was installed early last month. The council at present is made up of nineteen juniors and seniors representing Harding, St. Marys, and Edison High schools—two members from each sophomore class will be elected this fall following the opening of the school term. At the first council meeting the following officers were chosen to head the club for the coming year: Tom Taylor, president; Vincent Fazio, vice president; Babe Stuber, secretary, and Shirley Geissler, treasurer.

Organized in 1944

Club Co-Ed was organized on its present basis in 1944 under the sponsorship of the Y's Men's Service club who maintain and supervise it as a year-round youth project. When the club first opened it was under the direct supervision of Mr. and Mrs. William Luse. Each year a different member of the Y's Men's club has acted in an advisory capacity for the "teen-agers." At present Jack J. Bray is the adult advisor and is assisted in the supervisory work by Mrs. G. K. Switzer who is employed as a full time hostess.

Club rooms consist of a dance room with juke box and band stand, and fountain room completely equipped with a soda fountain, booths, tables and chairs. The club is open five nights a week—8 to 10:30 o'clock Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, and 8:30 to 11:30 Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Switzer is present at all times and on weekend nights is assisted by Y's Men and their wives.

The purpose of Club Co-Ed, according to its constitution, is "to foster the development of friendships among its members through various social activities." More specifically, the purpose is to provide a gathering place with a wholesome atmosphere where teen-age youngsters can spend their leisure hours. Smoking, gambling, intoxicating beverages, and profane language is strictly taboo, and the student council rigidly enforces all rules governing the conduct of Club Co-Ed youngsters.

Membership Eligibility

Membership in the club is open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors of Harding, St. Marys, and Edison, and also to high school graduates of the preceding two years. Students who will be sophomores this fall are now eligible for membership. Nancy Nussbaum, chairman of the membership committee, said that special $1 memberships, good until Oct. 1, are now available. All non-members must pay 15 cents each night they attend Club Co-Ed, and for special functions such as the July 16 dance, must pay double what members have to pay at the door to defray orchestra and incidental expenses. Friday night the admission fee will be 20 cents for members and forty cents for non-members.

Several hundred are expected to attend the dance. According to Jack Bray, club advisor, attendance during the summer has averaged approximately 125 youngsters each night. He points out that guests are always welcome, as Club Co-Ed and Y's Men's Service club are proud to be operating the club and consider it one of the most successful teen-age recreational centers in Ohio.

NEW LOOK IDEA LISTED FOR CHILDREN'S CLOTHES

By The United Press

AMES, Ia.—The new look in children's clothing should be easy to take care of, Lucille Rea, extension clothing specialist at Iowa State College, says.

By taking advantage of recent discoveries parents of pre-school children can make wise choices in selecting children's clothes, keep their child well-dressed and still save money she observed.

Pointing out that children in the two-to-six-year-old group outgrow clothes almost as fast as the parents buy them, Miss Rea suggested that a few garments can be made to serve for all occasions.

Here are some tips Miss Rea suggests in buying children's clothing

1—Buy a snowsuit one year and a coat the next year.

2—Be sure there is plenty of room in the garment for a lively youngster.

3—See that the shoulder line is loose enough for freedom of movement but fits well enough to stay in place.

4—Plan clothing with similar types of fastening, because a small child must learn one type thoroughly before trying another.

5—Elastic in garments should not go more than half way around and it should not be so tight that it leaves red marks on the skin.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

Olga went swiftly to the door and I saw that Olina and Mary were sharing a tense youthful enthusiasm in speculation as to the bridal finery which Philip Veritzen was bringing them from his theatrical warehouse, tomb of a superb and costly costume drama, the production of which a star's temperament and the impresario's obstinacy had kept from being made.

I recalled Philip's remark of less than an hour ago, that it had more than paid for itself by providing gowns for Olina's wedding, and knew that the flamboyant statement was sincere. Indeed, I mentally commented, it was most fortunate for the wedding that the costumes for the drama were still intact, for the secrecy which my father had insisted must surround the marriage of fugitive King Georges, of Trees, to exiled Princess Olina, of Transvania, prevented any shopping, or the bringing of any sewing women into the hotel or into the farmhouse at Sag Harbor.

When Olga had undone the night chain, and swung open the door, Philip came into the room, followed by Otto, his chauffeur of many years, with his arms piled high with boxes.

"Put them on the couch, Otto, please," Olga directed, and when the man had laid the boxes down, Philip spoke incisively.

"Thank you, Otto," he said. "Now please wait for me in the car. I'll all be down in less than ten minutes."

"Yes sir, thank you, sir," Otto replied in his stereotyped fashion. Then Philip had opened the door for him, closed it after him, and returned to us.

"I really ought to be getting on with that publicity for the house party camouflaging the wedding which Charles wishes," he said, "but I am indulging myself in the pleasure of seeing Olina and the rest of you look at her wedding gown, and the gowns of the other feminine members of the bridal party."

"Is it all right to open the boxes now?" Olina asked. She and Mary had dashed to a desk when Otto was putting the boxes on the couch, and were now standing by the boxes, each with a pair of scissors poised for cutting the cords."

"Go ahead!" her stepfather said, smiling. "The bridal gown is in the top box."

In another minute the cords were severed, the paper wrappings undone, the box top taken off, and then Olina and Mary, with little cries of admiration, were lifting out an exquisite gown of filmy white lace, which Mary, with one swift, expert look at it, held up in her hands.

"Put a sheet on the floor, Lina, quickly," she said, and Philip Veritzen chuckled.

"You have quick perceptions, my dear," he said, and Mary smiled at him as Olina spread a sheet on the floor. Then Mary gave the gown a little twist, and then slowly lowered it to the sheet.

"See, Lina! It stands alone!" she said, stepping back a pace, but with hands outstretched ready to catch the gown if it should start to topple. But it kept its place as if it were draped on a figure, and we saw that the full skirt, a mass of lace ruffles from waist to feet, had crinoline beneath it, holding it out, and that the bodice—what there was of it—was boned in the fashion of half a century ago. Now the circle had swung round again, and the gown might have been the masterpiece of any fashionable modiste.

But we saw something else also, and that was the garniture of seed pearls, outlining the bodice and heading every lace ruffle of the skirt, lace which I knew was worth "a king's ransom." This was a gown worthy of a coronation or a court bridal, and I was glad that Olga's daughter, facing so troubled and uncertain a future, was to have restored to her for one day the pomp and ceremony to which she so long had been accustomed.

"Well, my dear," Philip Veritzen said, smiling indulgently as she stood with clasped hands gazing at her wedding gown. "Do you like it?"

Mexico Bars Tourists From Selling Autos

By The United Press

SAN FRANCISCO — Mexico-bound motorists may be subject to heavy fines and imprisonment if they try to sell their cars south of the border.

Mexican authorities, alarmed at an increase in car smuggling from this country, have announced they are cracking down with stiff penalties on tourists who illegally sell their automobiles in Mexico.

If the practice continues, more stringent border controls will be instituted, thus penalizing thousands of bona fide American tourists, the California State Automobile association reported.

Mexican authorities are now pursuing a policy aimed at easing border restrictions in an effort to stimulate traffic.

The four new trucks sold in the county last week were three less than were sold the week ending July 6.

Grave Removal Firm Gets Ready For Huge Task in Delaware Area

Headquarters have been set up near the site of the Marlboro cemetery in Delaware county by the Kanuckel company, contracting firm in charge of disinterment operations at two cemeteries in the Delaware Dam flood control reservoir area.

Relocation of the Marlboro cemetery at a new site outside the reservoir area and removal of a number of graves in the historic Wyatt cemetery near Waldo to higher ground within the cemetery, constitutes one of the final phases of the federal flood control project Army engineers expect to see in operation next year.

Site Changes

The Kanuckel company a Nellie O firm has made its headquarters at the Wilbur Lauenberger farm a half mile south of Marlboro cemetery on the Horseshoe road. Two previous sites chosen by the company for its headquarters were discarded. One, the Walter S Cole homestead, was given up when Army engineers informed the company that the homestead was in the flood zone and maps and records would be endangered in case of emergency. The company's second choice of a location for headquarters also was passed up when it was found the government had not completed property settlement.

Disinterment Schedule

First disinterment operations are to take place at the Wyatt cemetery with graves at the lower end of the cemetery to be located in new plots at a higher level in the cemetery.

Nearest of kin will have the option of being present when the graves are moved and are to be notified when operations are to begin. Disinterment proceedings, at the order of the government, will be carried on in privacy behind a canvas rigged around the scene of operations.

Marlboro a Large Project

Following completion of work at Wyatt cemetery, the Kanuckel company is to undertake disinterment of nearly 2,000 graves in the Marlboro cemetery in a wholesale relocation project.

Graves will be located in a new cemetery east of the dam and several miles south of the present site. The company has 300 days in which to complete the cemetery relocation, according to the government contract.

Project engineers have indicated that other phases of the project should be completed and the dam in full operation in time for the spring high water next year.

Clearing of the reservoir basin is virtually completed and the protecting levee at Waldo more than 30 per cent done. The H. W. Holt Co. of Columbus has until December to complete the 6,500 foot levee.

REPORT GIVES MARION GOOD TRAFFIC RATING

City Lauded in Letter from Ohio Safety Council.

Marion's rating report in the Ohio traffic safety contest was received today by Mayor Harry L. Dowler, accompanied by a letter from Harry E. Neal, Columbus, executive secretary of the Ohio Traffic Safety Council, lauding Marion for its record of traffic safety improvement.

The report, the result of a survey of Marion traffic conditions conducted by the Ohio department of highways division of traffic and safety, is submitted to the mayor and police officials yearly so correctable flaws in the local traffic control set-up may be corrected.

During the last three years Marion's traffic picture improved in several ways in traffic death rate reduction in relation to population, and in accident reporting and records, in which Marion ranked in the top one-fifth of the state.

Marion was rated as above average in traffic engineering, and in public safety education. Law enforcement and safety in school areas was rated as average here. The overall rating of traffic conditions here was rated as average. This rating is viewed as satisfactory by Marion city and police officials as even slight discrepancies here would result in a sub-average rating, so high are the rating requirements of the Ohio Traffic Safety Council. Earlier this year the city received a certificate of achievement from the safety council for a reduction in the toll of fatal accidents from all causes here during the year just past.

Man Borrows Car For Extended Journey Home

By Staff Motor Route Carrier

CANTON, O., July 15—When McArthur Reese borrowed the automobile of a gasoline station proprietor here to take some groceries home, he failed to mention that he considered Macon, Ga., as his home, the owner, Carl Price complained to police today.

Informed that Reese was under arrest in Macon, Price filed an affidavit for his arrest charging criminal conversion of property.

CLASS HOLDS PICNIC

A picnic for members of the Happy Thought circle of First Evangelical and Reformed church and their families was held at McKinley park Wednesday night. During a business session it was decided to change the class meeting night from Wednesday to the second Tuesday of the month. Games were provided for the children, and the men's activities included horseshoe. Miss Wilda Reichardt won a contest award.

Tennessee was originally known as Franklin.

Blind War Veteran, Former Harding Sports Star, Plans Recreation Center

By SCOTT McMURRAY

Nine years ago Otis Scott of Waterloo street was an outstanding colored member of an undefeated Harding High school football team. Today that same Otis Scott, now a blind war veteran, still holds dear the same love for athletics and the boys who play them which made him a crack athlete himself.

Good athletes are good sports and Otis knows that a good sport plays the game right, by the rules, and always gives the other fellow an even break. So even though life has been handing him the tough breaks lately, such as losing his sight from a battlefield infection after returning from the war, he wants to pass on to younger, more fortunate boys of his race the principles in which he believes. These principles — to be a clean player, to be a good sport, and to always lend a helping hand to others—mean a lot to Otis and he is doing something about them.

Analyzes the Situation

As he sees it in his mind's eye most young fellows who wind up afoul of the law here generally do so about the age of 18. A check with Police Chief William E. Marks revealed Otis' estimate to be correct. Why do these 18-year-olds congregate at unsavory establishments? Otis asked himself. Many times because they have nothing else to do with their spare time and no nice place to go. He then reasoned, if these boys had some place to go of a wholesome nature with clean surroundings and supervised games, where they could pay their own way, not a charity set-up they would patronize it. So Otis is going to open his own recreation center with pool tables, ping pong, and other games. He will secure a poolroom license to limit attendance to 18-year-olds and older.

Building Under Construction

The building to house his place is three-fourths completed now, at the corner of Hocking and Edwards street, in the heart of Marion's West Side colored district. The building is being built of cement block and will measure, when completed, 40 feet long by 20 feet wide. It will be clean, light, airy, and attractively decorated. Otis will run it and a charge will be made for all games, because Otis knows no good sport expects something for nothing. He hopes to open his new place sometime in September.

Since his return from the Army he has spent 15 months in Crile hospital but prior to losing his sight he organized basketball teams, supported by Marion merchants who made good showings in the Y, Triple A and B basketball leagues here under various names, the Challengers being his best-known team. His plans for the coming season are incomplete but Otis believes with his new recreation center as a base of operations he may be able to organize equally good teams again this year and offer more opportunity for boys from all sections of town who wish to demonstrate their prowess at athletics.

Has Mapped His Course

Although his plans are still incomplete in final detail Otis Scott is sure of what he wants to do and how he wants to do it. His many friends are sure of two things—if Otis does what he plans, it will not only be good for him in his hours of darkness but will bring a new and shining light into the lives of many boys in Marion.

HOSTESS TO SORORITY

Mrs. Billie Johnston of Green Camp was hostess for a meeting of Beta Gamma chapter, Lambda Chi Omega sorority, in her home Tuesday evening. A report was made of the national convention at El Paso, Texas, June 18-20, by Mrs. Don Jerew, president. A pledging service was announced for July 27 at Ringers inn. The next regular meeting, Aug. 17, will be in the home of Mrs. Wilbur Flach on Hane avenue.

MARRIAGE REVEALED

BUCYRUS—July 15—The marriage July 8 in Greenup, Ky. of Miss Ruth Caroline Driscoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Driscoll and Paul Allen Pfeifer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Pfeifer, is being made known. Attendants were Miss Helen Butler of Mt. Liberty and Dallas McFarland of Oceola.

CROP MAKES PLANS

BUCYRUS, July 15 — Crawford county's Christian Rural Overseas program was put into motion Monday night when representatives of churches and other agencies met to plan the county's donations of grain for the food train being arranged for European relief. Dean F. Bair, AAA chairman, is chairman of the CROP program.

Roller Skate Device Repairs Flat Tires

By The United Press

NEW YORK—Ever find yourself in the middle of nowhere with a flat tire and no jack?

Mildred George did. She was determined that it wouldn't happen again.

Mrs. George announced her antidote for that "get out and walk to the nearest telephone" business. She's invented a device called an "auto skate."

It looks like an elongated roller skate. It weighs 18 pounds and has six wheels, with a cradle in the middle. There is also a small detachable steel ramp.

When you get a flat all you have to do is:

Put the ramp in front of the flat tire. Attach the skate to the front of the ramp. Drive on. Detach the ramp. Drive to the nearest gas station.

3 TRAFFIC ARRESTS REPORTED BY POLICE

One Driver Accused of Leaving Accident Scene.

Two traffic arrests, one resulting in an arrest and two arrests for speeding were reported by police today.

Howard H. Neer, 47, of 378 North State street is under $125 bond after his arrest last night by police on charges of leaving the scene of a accident. Police report he was seen driving down and damaged a city street department sign and some shrubbery surrounding an electric manhole on East Center street just west of the Marion avenue intersection, and continued driving after demolishing the barricade and knocking down flares marking it. He was to appear before Judge Hazen in municipal court today to answer the charge.

Police report a car driven by Ray C. Lash of 213 Clover avenue and one driven by Josephine M. Kinstry of 350 East Center street collided at 5:45 p. m. yesterday as both cars were pulling from parking spaces in front of 132 Pennsylvania avenue. Both were slightly damaged.

Clarence Franklin Leonhart, 45, of Bloomville was arrested at 2:55 a. m. on a charge of speeding on North Main street. He posted a $25 bond for an appearance before Judge Hazen in municipal court on July 20.

Milford Albert Ross, 22, of near Upper Sandusky was arrested at 1:53 a. m. today on North Main street on a charge of speeding. He posted a $25 bond for his appearance in municipal court today.

Howard Riffle, 35, of Point Pleasant set some sort of record here yesterday according to police reports.

Riffle was arrested at 12:12 p. m. yesterday at Union Station and lodged in city prison on a charge of being intoxicated. At 7 p. m. he was allowed to post bond and was released. At 10:32 p. m. he was arrested a second time for intoxication, this time on West Center street. He was again lodged in city prison, this time to stay until he could appear in municipal court today to answer both charges.

6 British Jet Planes Complete Ocean Flight

By The Associated Press

GOOSE BAY, LABRADOR, July 15—Six RAF Vampires soared across the North Atlantic today—Greenland last night, completing the first ocean crossing by jet-powered aircraft. The time for Greenland was 6 hours and 40 minutes.

The planes, enroute from London to New York, arrived here at 4 p.m. (8:14 p.m., eastern standard time). The pilots were greeted by Lt Col David Schilling who is with the 16 American Shooting Star jets waiting to take off on a west-east ocean hop

OHIOANS

...was set off earlier in the evening when Mr Truman's name was offered for the presidential nomination.

Thomas C Kilcoyne of Portsmouth led the Ohio standard bearers in a parade around the convention floor Mrs Mary Sotak of Cleveland marched behind him shaking a rattler, and Mrs. Lena Sifred of Lima carried a papier-mache donkey

The bands played "The Missouri Waltz" "Dixie" "Happy Days Are Here Again" and even the four-leaf clover song which was the theme music of Senator Taft's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination in this city last month.

The walkout of the Mississippi delegation and half the Alabama delegation provided a convention sensation, but it didn't seem to impress the Ohioans

"Where are they going?" quipped Jack Kroh of Cincinnati.

"It's healthy," commented Ray T Miller of Cleveland recalling the bitter anti-Truman campaign conducted by the southerners

Before coming to the nominations the Ohio delegates took a stand on two disputes over the 1948 platform

They voted unanimously to reject a states right plank sought by Dixie Democrats.

They voted 39 to 11 to substitute a stronger plank on civil rights

Their action on the two issues found the majority of the convention's delegates siding with them

Mansfield May Vote On Wage Boost This Fall

MANSFIELD, O. July 15—Wage demands of Mansfield police and firemen may be carried to the voters in November for settlement.

A committee negotiating for the men filed a copy of a proposed ordinance with the city auditor calling for the pay increases, and announced that the committee will circulate a petition demanding a vote on the ordinance in November

City officials estimate the pay increases would cost the city $98,000 annually The raises would range from 29 per cent to 45 per cent of present salaries, averaging $220 a month.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 15—The stock market drifted a little lower in slow trade today

A couple of oil and liquor issues managed to stay above water but fractional losses prevailed in the general run of the market

Curtiss-Wright was again a trouble spot when a new batch of buy orders streamed into the exchange Trade was suspended in the issue twice yesterday following declaration of two dividends of $1 each on the common and the opening was delayed today while the specialist in the stock aided by his assistants and a couple of stock exchange governors tried to establish a price at which buy and sell orders could be executed

Central railroad of N J and Nickel Plate each lost more than a point at one time. Smaller declines were posted for U S Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors Chrysler, J I. Case, Consolidated Natural Gas, General Electric N Y Central, Northern Pacific and Texas Co.

Marked up were Caterpillar tractor, Schenley, National Distillers, Western Union, Sinclair Oil and Richfield Oil.

tributed the step to political motives and the criticism of "cheap politics" came from several voicing their views

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), the president of the senate who has worked closely with the administration on foreign policy, expressed doubts that "any good to the country" would come of the session.

"This sounds like a vast hysterical gasp of an expiring administration," said Vandenberg, senate foreign relations committee chairman. He added that the move "obviously stems solely from political motives"

Gabe Cartnal Drives Shandon to Victory in Two-Dash Feature Race

Black 7-Year-Old Gelding Captures Both Heats of The Tiffin 26 Trot

By GEORGE SCOTT

Few of the 2,000 racing fans at the fairgrounds last night thought they would see Shandon, a black seven-year old trotter win a race at all but Gabe Cartnal drove him to victory in both the fifth and seventh dashes to capture the Tiffin Stake trophy

In both races the coal-black gelding came from behind to take the 26 class trots of 9/10ths and a mile After pulling out from the 26 class trots of 9/10ths and a mile After pulling out from the third slot, Shandon put on a power drive and it was neck and neck and stride for stride as Shandon and Sailor Signal neared around the turn into the home stretch Shandon slowly pulled away and crossed the wire ahead by a length.

Dr Jack Smyth introduced Tiffin s Mayor Vanderhoff who presented the Tiffin trophy to the son of C Bowen of Columbus, one of the owners of the horse The other owner is C Martin of Ashland Shandon paid $18 00 and $6.20 to win in the two races

Sth Repeats 6th

The sixth and eighth races gave the stands the same feeling as seeing one movie twice In both contests Champion Volo was first, Little Minnie second, and Hi-Betty third Champion Volo, a three-year-old chestnut colt, was driven by Fritz Newhart giving him a double win for the evening, his first victories of the meet. The 23 class pacer was the youngest horse of a field of eight, He is owned by Newhart Brothers and Wenzel of Marietta.

Jim Wingfield jumped into the race for top honors in winners brought home Altering tactics the second race, a 27 class pace of a mile, with Strong Hal, he promptly came back in the third and won again, this time with Portfolio. Portfolio circled the oval twice in 2 20 excellent time for a two-year-old By his win, he established the fastest time for two-year-olds in the Marion meet so far

Totals Four Wins

The dark green and white Wingfield colors have now crossed the finish line first four times This double win last night puts him but one behind the five wins of Walt Dispanette and Scotty Welch Both the leaders of the win race entered one race but neither boosted his win total Welch drove Herkimer to a second in the third contest won by Wingfield and Mary C Song, driven by Dispanette, came in seventh in the fifth.

Charles Retherford was the only Marion owner who had a horse come home in the money His Foxie Fancy paid place money in the second contest Owner Daisy Haines of Richwood secured two seconds with Little Minnie in the sixth and eighth races

Tall Slim Shilling drove Sailor Signal to a second in the seventh contest which gives him a total of seven seconds in the meet He leads in that category

Long Silk refused to run in the first race and after one recall he was taken from the track The daily double paid $25 for winners Miss Munda in the first and Strong Hal in the second.

CLEVELAND BROWNS SIGN 2 MORE BACKS

CLEVELAND July 15 — The champion Cleveland Browns of the All America conference today announced the signing of two more quarterbacks, Paul Rickards of the University of Pittsburgh and Stan Magdziak of William and Mary

Their signing brings to 46 the number of players who will report to the Browns Bowling Green O, training camp July 26

The Browns will take four quarterbacks to camp In addition to Rickards and Magdziak, Otto Graham, all-conference signal-caller, and Cliff Lewis will be back

BILLY CONN TO TRY RING COMEBACK

By International News Service

PITTSBURGH July 15—Billy Conn is definitely going to try a ring comeback

International News Service learned authoritatively today that Conn has decided to go after the heavyweight crown vacated by Joe Louis

Billy is enroute to Dallas Tex to spend a month hardening up on the ranch of a friend Bob Frocker

If at the end of the month Conn feels he can come back, he will go into earnest training

At present, "Billy the Kid weighs 194 pounds, 12 more than he did for his last fight, the second with Louis in June 1946

Conn, now 30, feels he is not too old to come back Three of the four leading contenders for the crown vacated by Joe Louis are older

Gus Lesnevich the present lightheavyweight king is 34 as is Jersey Joe Walcott Lee Savold is 32 Ezzard Charles, 26 is the only major contender younger than Conn

Conn retired from boxing immediately after his dismal showing against Louis in their second fight. Billy spent two years in the Army and wasn t allowed any tune up matches for the title fight Louis knocked him out in the eighth round

Lord Nelson, Englands naval hero, won the battle of Copenhagen while acting against orders to stop fighting

Racing Programs Are Rushed Here By Airplanes

Marion harness racing programs have taken to the air

The past performance programs so avidly searched for winners by fans are flown in from Dayton the afternoon before the night they re sold at the fairgrounds Beside general information on each horse the programs list his winnings and how he ran his last five races

The Cornell Program-Form Co which turns out the programs for the Marion meet also worked at Hilliard Because the two meetings were so close together and the complicated program forms take a week to draw up it was decided to extend the contract with Dayton printers and have them flown in.

Daily a plane lands at the municipal airport and the nights programs are unloaded On the return trip information for the races two days ahead is carried back

If a horse raced the night before the statistics of his performance are phoned into Dayton to meet the deadline

"So far the system has worked very well" said Louis O Parmanager In a sense the arrangement of programs by air is an experiment for future operations Cornell Program-Form may fly programs into Chicago, Detroit and Ohio cities from headquarters in Indiana next year if the present flights from Dayton prove satisfactory

The run made by each horse is recorded by Mr Parlato and his assistants, Bud Sullivan, Max Green, and Betty Tharp They sit in the press box at the top of the stands with binoculars and call out the positions of each horse at the start, quarter half, stretch, and finish The lengths ahead are taken from the photos made of every finish whether close or not. Tuel men supply the odds.

Prospect Downs Collegians, 7-1

Special to The Star

PROSPECT July 15 — The Prospect American Legion remained on victory road here last night by defeating the Columous Collegians 7-1 behind the two-hit pitching of Carl Oehler and Sherman Biggerstaff Don Griffith sparked the Prospect attack by smashing one of the longest homers ever seen here a two-run blow in the first inning that landed on the railroad tracks outside the park.

Marion Moore will meet the Marion Power Shovel nine on the Prospect diamond in a benefit game Friday night starting at 8 o clock, and a donkey game will follow The benefit is to provide further recreation equipment for the community

Marion's American Legion Junior Baseball Team To Open District Tourney with Sunbury

By BILL MURPHY

Marion s American Legion Junior baseball team will meet Sunbury tomorrow morning at White s field at Newark and London will engage Mt Vernon at Arnold s field right across the road in the opening games of the Sixth Ohio District Junior baseball tournament local team manager and secretary of the league, W E Orcutt announced today. The openers will begin at 10 a m

Drawings for the double elimination tournament were made last night at a meeting of the five team representatives at the Delaware Legion post As only one team from each county is permitted to participate in the play-off an eliminating game between Sunbury and Delaware was necessary to decide which team from Delaware county would be eligible and Sunbury downed the Delawarians

Team Standings

The five teams and their regular season standings are London league leader with a record of 6-0 Marion 4-1 Newark 3-2, Mt Vernon 2-4, and Sunbury, 1-4 Delaware failed to cop a win in five starts Regular season play in the league has not ended but it is necessary to play the tournament in mid-schedule in order to conform with regular tournament dates set up by the national Legion organization State, regional sectional, and national tournaments are scheduled for the month of August Marion will have six games to play after the district playoff has ended

Other games to be played at Newark Friday and Saturday — the finals will be played at Lincoln park here Sunday—will see the winner of the Mt Vernon-London game and Newark who drew a bye in a contest at 2 30 p m Friday at Arnold s field Winner of that game will play the winner of the Sunbury-Marion game at 10 a m Saturday at White s field The losers of the London Mt. Vernon and Marion-Sunbury game will make up the second game Friday afternoon at White's field

Fight games all told will be necessary to determine which two teams will meet here for the championship All games at Newark will be played either at 10 a m or 2 30 p m on the two fields there on either Friday or Saturday The finals at Lincoln park Sunday will begin at 3 30 p m

Two umpires will be used for each game at Newark They are Wade Conkle of Marion, Paul Carpenter and Lonnie Wilhelm of Newark and Pat Shannon or Allen Deuschle of London All four umps will arbitrate at the crucial finals

Tough Role

Marion, to be a true host in their own ball park will have to down Sunbury in the initial game, and then either Newark or London who are expected to offer the sternest competition The Juniors defeated Newark in regular season play, but fell before the youngsters of London The league leading London men, led by pitcher Paul Ferguson who eliminated the Marionites in last years tournament while hurling for Plain City will be placed in a hole from the beginning, being forced to meet Mt Vernon and Newark in the first two games

Unless they choose to start the star hurler against Mt Vernon which is unlikely with Newark coming up, Marion should face one of their lesser mound artists He might however pitch to both Newark and Marion assuming that both teams win their initial games but the possibility is remote

Coach Irvin has not decided which of his pitchers will get the call for Fridays game but he has several of almost equal ability and diverse talent. His mound staff boasts both a fireballer and a control pitcher and seven of the lads are capable of taking over the pitcher's role

Stranahan Favored In Canadian Amateur

By The Associated Press

HAMILTON Ont, July 15—The Canadian amateur golf tournament moved into the quarter-final round today with Frank Stranahan of Toledo O, heavily favored to repeat as champion

The muscular young man who earlier this year captured the British amateur crown handled his two assignments neatly yesterday as the large field was reduced to 16 men including four Americans

Stranahan defeated Bruce Deugall of Toronto 3 and 2 and Don Cordukes of Ottawa 5 and 4

Today Stranahan met another United States player, Doug Ford of New York

Other American survivors were Ed Meister of Willoughby Pa and Larry Dana Jr, of Bradford Pa

Meister faced Gill Walker of London and Dana met Sonny Adams of Toronto They were in the lower bracket with Stranahan and Ford while the Canadians had the upper draw all to themselves

Alivojvodic Whiffs 14 as Cubs Win, 5-4

Strikeout King Notches 12th Win As Bruins Down Reds in Tenth Frame

Special to The Star

MUNCIE, Ind., July 15—The Ohio-Indiana league's strikeout king, big Nick Alivojvodic of Marion, whiffed 14 Muncie batters here last night to run his season total to 137 as the Cubs nicked the Redlegs, 5 to 4, in a ten-inning contest, the final of a two-game series here.

The win was Nick's twelfth, [illegible] in a row, and marked his return to action after first a leg injury and then league president Frank Colley's ban for throwing a temper-tantrum, had kept him idle since July 5.

The Cubs move on to Newark for a two-game set with the fourth-place Yankees.

Score with 2 Out

The Cubs scored the winning run off of Stanley Kaufman, second of two Muncie hurlers, with two out in the tenth. Bill Bolduc with one out cracked his fifteenth double of the season down the left field line. He stayed at second on a cushion while Don [illegible] struck out and Stanley Nieman received a free ticket to first.

Because of the Muncie strategy of walking King was to get to Olin Schaepf, hitless in four times at bat. However the Cub rookie upset the calculations by going to left, Bolduc racing to third.

With Nieman's sixteenth home run of the season in the third inning, sent Muncie off to a 2 to 0 lead, Arnold Davis was on base via the free ride.

Marion quickly tied the figures at 2 all in the fourth on a single by Manager Frank Kristie, Gene Bobzean's double and another safety by Bolduc, his 100th of the year. Bobzean later scored on Schaepf's long outfield fly.

Rally in 8th

The Reds went out in front 4 to 2 in the seventh but Marion, apparently incensed by an umpire's decision, rallied savagely in the eighth to tie the score and drive starter Ray Trava to the showers.

For Kaufman it was his second loss after five wins.

In collecting two hits in four trips Bolduc went over the century mark in total number of safeties for the season. He now has 101.

CONNIE'S ELEVEN A'S

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA — Connie Mack, the only manager the baseball Philadelphia Athletics have ever had, organized an Athletic football team in 1902. The team included Rube Waddell in the lineup. After defeating Pittsburgh, which had Christy Mathewson at fullback, Mack claimed the pro football championship of the United States.

Fairground Area Becomes a City During Race Time

By GEORGE SCOTT

Picture an almost deserted area north of Marion which suddenly becomes a living city of near 1,000 men, women and children and about 400 horses. Try to imagine a temporary community on wheels moving onto fields that contained little more than empty barns before.

This is the fairgrounds during the three weeks of the Marion harness races.

As one enters the fairgrounds he is struck by what seems to be disorganization. Everywhere he sees tents, cars, trailers, dogs, people and horses.

But each family sends the children to the race secretary's office for the mail. Here and there washing is hung up to dry on lines stung between trees, giving evidence of more ordered life. Trailers serve as restaurants with the day's menu painted with whitewash on the outside.

Under one car a duck peeks out and then a rooster crows. Soon they'll be served on the dinner tables of horsemen.

Further on the blacksmiths' forges glow and the sound of their hammers blends with the pounding of the horses jogging the track not far away. A sign on one barn reads "Harness Repair" and from inside can be heard voices arguing about some horse.

Horses are the most important members of this community. They are given the best possible care and when one is sick all concerned with the horse are sick. Out on the track many drivers talk to their trotter or pacer as they would talk to a good friend.

In the stands and at the rails, usually a few owners watch 15 or 20 horses jogging the track. When the horses have finished their warm-up they are covered with bright woolen "coolers" and walked slowly for about an hour.

"Down at Hilliard . . ." She was bred in the purple . . ." Most of the conversation is about horses and other tracks. In buildings that later in the year will hold sheep, cattle, and pies, horses are housed with the hopes of men who train, drive and own them.

Here, willingness to take a chance and speed are the principal ingredients of life. No more typically American scene can be found.

RAY GOT HOT

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI — Ray Lamanno, hustling catcher for the Cincinnati Reds drove in seven runs in one inning while playing for Muskogee of the Western Association in 1939. Lamanno drove out two home runs in the inning, one with the bases filled, the other with two on. It was his second year in organized baseball.

MUNCIE CLINCHES ALL-STAR GAME

By The Associated Press

The Ohio-Indiana league's all-star game, scheduled for July 27, will be played at Muncie according to standings of the teams after last night's games.

Muncie's only immediate threat, Springfield, dropped a doubleheader program to Zanesville 4-3 and 8-1, putting them three full games behind Muncie.

According to the league officials, the team in first place on the morning of July 17 is awarded the all-star game.

Muncie dropped a game to Marion last night in 10 innings 5-4.

Lima replaced Richmond in the league cellar when the Indiana team downed the Terriers 3-2 in 12 innings. Richmond won when leftfielder Paul Mullin tripled and scored on an infield ground ball.

Newark and Portsmouth were rained out.

BREWERS RUN WIN STREAK TO TWELVE

By The Associated Press

Among those who are feeling the heat these warm July days are the Indianapolis Indians American Association leaders as the red-hot, runnerup Milwaukee Brewers continue to apply the pressure on the Tribe

Milwaukee last night ran its winning streak to 12—longest of the season—by defeating Columbus 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, to advance to within one game of Indianapolis The Indians edged out St Paul, 3 to 2, scoring all their runs in the sixth inning In the night's only other league game Minneapolis defeated Toledo 9 to 8

A couple of pitchers from the parent club Boston Braves hurled Milwaukee to two well-earned triumphs Ray Martin bested Columbus' Wayne McLeland in the seven-inning opener allowing the Red Birds six hits and striking out seven Columbus averted a shutout in the third on Bill Costa's double, an infield out and Ben Steiner's fly to score Costa

Eddie Wright also allowed only six hits in the nightcap and the one Columbus run was unearned The setback was fastened on reliefer Charlie Stanceau in the eighth when Larry Rosenthal made his Milwaukee debut with a punch single to score Manny Fernandez, who had doubled

Minneapolis edged out Toledo when Bob Raney fourth Mud Hen pitcher, issued a base on balls with the bases filled in the ninth inning to break an 8-all tie The Millers scored six times in the seventh to go ahead, 7 to 8, but Toledo bounced back with a five-run splurge in the top of the eighth to take an 8 to 7 advantage Minneapolis pushed across a run to tie it again at 8-apiece in the eighth

It is estimated that a human blood stream contains 25 trillion red cells

OSGOOD, OSWALT, HUB GRILL WIN

Osgood Co, Oswalt Plumbing Co and Hub Bar and Grill (formerly sponsored by Ohio Associated Telephone) pumped out victories last night in the Wednesday Industrial league over Ohio Public Service, Quaker Oats and Standard Oil respectively

Osgood, jumping to a six run lead in the first two innings, was never in danger of surrendering to the Service team, as their pitcher, Thorpe, allowed only five hits while the men behind him got to Mathias for four safeties good for a 9-3 verdict OPS tallied two runs in the fourth and one in the sixth but were never able to overcome Osgood's opening lead

Oswalt came from behind in their game with the Oats to overcome a 4-3 deficit in the fourth inning to deadlock the score at 4-up, and then went on to run in six more in a big fifth inning splurge and add four more in the sixth, for a round 14-5 victory They scored 14 runs on 14 hits off B Johnson Guy of Oswalt gave up only three hits

The newly named Hub Bar and Grill combine kept everything rosy by winning a close one from the Sohioans, 4-3 Stuber of the Sohio team permitted three hits in the "now we have now we haven't game" while McKeever gave up six safeties The lead changed hands four times before Hub Bar and Grill finally won the verdict Each team scored one run in the first The Hub then took a 2-1 lead, Sohio came back to take a 3-2 lead and Hub again went ahead 4-3 to win in an extra inning

A WIN was been taken off the Lima scoring and a loss off Springfield by action of Ohio-Indiana league president Frank Coley who upheld a Springfield protest of a game at Lima The game will be re played from the point of the protest August 20 The game was in the final inning with the Terriers leading, 6-5 and the Giants at bat one man out a man on second and the batter with one strike on him The batter Bob Davis had hit a slow roller to first and he heard Umpire Pa Shaner yell foul and returned to the plate but was jagged out on the way back by the Lima catcher Coley said Shaner had had a lapse of memory about whether he yelled foul, but that two fans he questioned said he did and therefore he ruled Davis Asst out upholding Manager Bob Rotar's protest How could an ump have a lapse of memory on a protested play like that The Terriers have continued to bring new men to the ball club the latest newcomers being pitchers Lee Zorge a lefty Johnny Olszanek and Ronald Twait and third baseman Jack Tomsheck The Muncie Reds have new new hurlers southpaws Don Striegel and Leon Snuggs

PLAYOFF dates for games postponed through July 12 in the Ohio-Indiana league were announced today Marion will play at Springfield Aug 9 previously an open date and Portsmouth will play two games here Aug 8

Demon Hanover Likely Favorite In Hambletonian

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 15—Demon Hanover the Citation of the trotting tracks seemed certain today to go postward the favorite for the $60 000 Hambletonian stake at Goshen, N Y, Aug 11

The three-year-old colt owned by Harrison Hoyt amateur driver from Bethel, Conn, put on another convincing performance last night when he captured the $5,000 Adirondack Grand Circuit feature at Saratoga, N Y, raceway The result left the Connecticut trotting yankee at the head of the list for trotting's Kentucky Derby

This was the Demon's third major success in New York State's recent Grand Circuit program, and leaves the professionals in the trotting business somewhat stumped

They have insisted the son of Dean Hanover-Sorceress should have a professional trainer and driver No amateur driver, they pointed out, ever had copped the Hambletonian since it first was run and won by Guy McKinney in 1926

The 38-year-old Hoyt never heard the critics although Demon Hanover lost his initial outing of the year He was back to win his second straight then was nosed out in his third

Other prominent contenders facing Demon Hanover will get another chance to improve their rating in the $10,000 Saratoga Trot for three-year-olds July 21 They include such as Judge Moore, owned by W N Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N C, Jeff Hanover property of Mary Lou O'Connor Warwick Downs R I Farcry from Arden Homestead

INDIANS OPEN 3RD TRIP EAST WITH A'S

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, July 15 — Cleveland's league-leading Indians open their third invasion of the east here tonight and their pennant hopes undoubtedly will depend on their ability to continue their mastery of the eastern clubs

The last time the Tribesmen swung through the east they came home with a record of eight victories and three defeats

The Philadelphia Athletics who trail the Indians by only a half a game provide the initial opposition tonight in a twin-night doubleheader

The Tribesmen spent a busy evening in Cleveland tuning up for the important series with the Athletics by whipping the Brooklyn Dodgers 4 to 3 in an 11 inning exhibition game last night

The attendance—84 877 paying fans—set a new record for exhibition games between two major league clubs The old record was 82 369 for a pre-season clash this year in Yankee stadium between the Dodgers and the New York Yankees

Jim Hegan singled with two out in the 11th to score Joe Gordon from second with the winning run

Leroy (Satchel) Paige the fabulous Negro hurler recently purchased by the Indians for relief duty wowed the crowd with a brilliant two-inning stint

The ageless Alabaman entered the game in the seventh threw only 12 pitches and struck out the side He also retired three more batters in the eighth before being replaced by Gene Bearden who received credit for the win

The game was played for benefit of the Cleveland Baseball Federation which will receive close to $90 000 for medical and promotional expenses in the sandlot circuits

Stable Goshen all defeated in the Adirondack last night

Around 15 are expected to start in the August race which drew a record entry of 69 three-year-olds The $60,000 value would make this the richest Hambletonian in 20 years

HOME GROWN PRODUCTS

By The Associated Press

DETROIT — The Detroit Tigers this season are offering nine players who were either born in Detroit or lower Michigan or who spent their boyhood there And all nine got their start on Detroit sandlots Pitchers Ted Gray, Art Houtteman, Hal Newhouser, and Bill Pierce all are native Detroiters, while Frank Overmire comes from Moline, Mich Shortstop Connie Berry was born in Kalamazoo and Shortstopper Johnny Lipon moved to Detroit from Ohio as a lad Johnny McHale, reserve first baseman, was born in Detroit, while Outfielder Ed Mierkowicz was born in Wyandotte, a Detroit suburb

ROCK KNOCKS FOX

TARENTUM, Pa —It took 20 years of hunting for John Cupec to bag a fox And then he killed it with a rock Cupec was caught without a gun when his prize fox hound, "Bull," tangled with a fox The veteran hunter picked up a rock and scored a bullseye from 20 feet The fox was one of the finest specimens taken in this district during the season

Stage Set for Ohio Amateur Golf Match Between Servis and McCarthy

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio Associated Press Sports Editor

DAYTON O July 15— Two rounds of matches cutting the field to eight players were on the Ohio amateur golf championship chart today but the spotlight played on a bit of single man-to-man combat

The match play field was whittled from 64 to 32 in yesterday's opening round but defending champion Bob Servis of Dayton, five-time holder of the crown, and Maurice J McCarthy Jr, of Cincinnati a three-time winner emerged victorious in today's No 1 spot

Servis had a tough time winning one up over Bob Ross of Springfield but McCarthy, former National Intercollegiate and New York Metropolitan king, erased Tom Jones Jr, of Youngstown by 3 and 2

Twice before these two outstanding shotmakers have met, each time in the 36-hole finals match The first time, in 1934 McCarthy defeated 19-year-old Servis 9 and 8 Two years later Servis was one victor one up in 40 holes The last time they've clashed over 18 holes.

Servis is now 33 and playing over his home course at Miami Valley Golf club and McCarthy has passed the 40-year mark No matter which wins there is no assurance he'll go on to take the championship for this year's field is probably the fastest and finest the play-for-fun classic has ever boasted

Before either can reach the finals, plenty of up-and-coming talent must be batted out of the way In the same bracket with the two favored stars are such clubswingers as Earl Hamilton of Columbus, who yesterday grabbed a one-up verdict over the Notre Dame golf captain Jack Fitzpatrick of Akron, Bob Myers of Granville, 1940 state junior champion who grew up into a six-foot four-inch basketball star for Dartmouth and defeated Dorsey Nevergall former professional from Lima by 2 and 1 in the opening round young Jack Thompson of Youngstown who knocked out Danny Carmichael of Columbus, former Princeton golf captain 2 and 1 and Lee Jack Mann of Tuscarawas public links star who went to the semi-finals of the recent play-as-you-go state meet.

Rotary - Kiwanis Benefit Will Be Marion's Second

The sponsored Rotary-Kiwanis benefit baseball game to be played at Lincoln park Tuesday night will be the second of the season for the Cubs who will host the Zanesville Dodgers on that occasion

The Cubs played a Booster benefit game with the Portsmouth Athletics June 5 and humbled the visitors, 12-4, before an estimated crowd of 3 500

For this game which is to be played for the benefit of underprivileged children of Marion county and child welfare work of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, 5 000 tickets have been printed but no report of sale on the $1 ducats has as yet been made To the leading salesman from each of the clubs will go prizes donated by Marion merchants, publicity chairman Wilson Tway of the Rotary club announced To the leading Kiwanis salesman will go a cigaret lighter with an engraved insignia of the organization and to the top Rotarian a combination barometer hydrometer and thermometer Other prizes will probably be awarded to runner-up salesmen from each club in the ticket campaign, which will not terminate until the final out is made

The Cubs are scheduled to be at Newark tonight and Friday for single games at Zanesville for a single game Saturday and a double header Sunday, before they meet the Dodgers in the benefit They will be idle Monday
